DAILY GAZETTE.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—There are seven thousand persons on Stewart's pay rolls.

—The ladies of Charlestown, S. C., have given $2,000 toward the Lee mausoleum.

—The Senate of the University of Prague has prohibited the attendance of women at lectures.

—For the first time in many years the Republicans carried the charter election in Jersey City on Monday.

—A Dublin special says it is pretty certain the emigration from Ireland for 1876 will be the smallest since 1851.

—It has been agreed to close the New York Stock Exchange on Good Friday, and from the 1st to the 5th of July.

—The Ohio Legislature adjourned yesterday, having been in session but 101 days—the shortest session in the last fifteen years.

—A telegram from Washington to London speaks positively of Gen. Schenck resuming the functions of Minister to England.

—Judge Drummond, at Milwaukee, yesterday sentenced F. J. Moeller, ex-whisky-gauger, to one year's imprisonment and $2,500 fine.

—The Ohio City Iron and Nail Works, located at Martins Ferry, Ohio, yesterday made an assignment. Liabilities and assets unknown.

—The Boston Advertiser thinks that the trouble with the country is that too many business men want to peddle high-toned strawberries instead of Democratic codfish.

—The fifth annual convention of the Womens' Presbyterian Board of Missions of the Northwest convened at Indianapolis yesterday. Three hundred delegates were present from abroad.

—The Virginia Republican State Convention met at Lynchburg yesterday, and elected Peter J. Carter, a colored man, temporary President, and spent the day in discussing credentials.

—The St. Louis Grand Jury yesterday ignored the indictment found a few days ago charging E. B. Brown, Superintendent of the fire alarm telegraph, with perjury. It is understood that Mayor Overstolz will reinstate Mr. Brown.

—The Chicago Board of Trade yesterday adopted rules which make the selling of puts and calls on open board a breach of decorum on the part of members who participate in such transactions, and which prohibit such rules under a penalty.

—There was another acrimonious debate in the South Carolina Convention yesterday—on the question of excluding all contesting delegates. It was finally decided to exclude them—Gen. Chamberlain being thus defeated. The delegates go unpledged to Cincinnati.

—The Boston Globe thinks Mr. Blaine the busiest man in the country these days, running single-handed the minority in the House, nagging the majority, looking after chores at home in Maine, watching his competitors in the Presidential race and chucking obstacles in their path. The Springfield Republican wonders "if he hasn't bit off more than he can chaw."

—The question of the extent to which amnesty should be granted to political offenders gives as much trouble to the French Deputies, as to the American Representatives. Even the moderate Republicans are not quite ready to forget the crimes of the Commune, which were, indeed, quite beyond the grade of political offenses, if not beyond the grade of crimes which society can afford to forgive.

The attempts to patch up a peace in Turkey are at an end. The Porte will make no more concessions; the insurgents will not accept those already made. There is nothing for it but a fight. All Bosnia is in arms, and Servia making ready for war. At Berlin fears of a rupture between Austria and Russia are entertained. Russian emissaries have kept the hopes of the insurrectionists alive, and defeated the Austrian efforts to peaceably adjust all difficulties. It is evident that European Turkey is to be torn in pieces, and there is to be a row over the fragments.

—Senator Hamlin continues to receive the fond attentions of the newspapers. The Utica Observer has embalmed his postage views in verse which will be liable to live a good deal longer than any recollection of the Senator's statesmanship. "As near as we can get at Hamlin's idea of a schedule of postal charges," says the editor, "he would have—a one-cent stamp for a circulair, a two-cent stamp for a sealed lettair, a ten cent stamp for a newspapair, and a great big frank for the Senatair. Hump, Hamlin! rip and tear! Go for the friendless newspapair."

—The aggregate gross earnings of the twenty leading railways during the month of March were $5,446,429. This shows an increase of $236,426 over the same month last year. The improvement amounts to 4½ per cent. and certainly shows an encouraging gain in business. The total gross earnings of these roads for the last quarter amount to $15,524,177, which is an increase of $1,481.735, or over 10½ per cent. over the earnings of the corresponding period in 1875. The revival of trade is necessarily slow, but these figures show that it is actually taking place, and perhaps before the year ends our merchants will have nothing to complain of.

—A Tribune correspondent, writing from Albany, on Tilden's Presidential prospects, says: "Gov. Tilden has done a great deal to disorganize his party. He has broken up its two great Rings. He has in this way and in others alienated not a few leading Democrats. Men have not been conciliated who might have been, and there have been mistakes made. But the fact remains that he has both the organization and the masses of the party with him. No other man in the State, except ex-Governor Seymour is so strong with either. While his friends may not urge him as a New York candidate, they do present him as a candidate who can carry New York. For the rest, they seem to rely on the hope that the Democratic Convention at St. Louis will see that no other candidate can bring them so much outside strength. They are conducting their campaign very quietly, but energetically, and seem to want to avoid that early notoriety which kills off so many candidates."

—Mr. Charles O'Connor, in a brief letter embracing five columns of the New York Tribune, disposes of the slander about him taking nearly $60,000 in fees from Mrs. Forrest for services in the divorce suit, when it had all along been supposed he worked for nothing. He shows that his fee for fourteen years' service was $7,500, and all the other money he received was in payment of loan.s In reference to the statement that he had received credit from the bar and the public for championing an unprotected woman's cause, he says the idea is absurd. He disposed of this feature of the case in these sentences: "Mrs. Forrest was not a poor, aged widow, as some have suggested. She was in no sense an object of mere charity. She was living in good style, with an allowance from her rich husband; she was young, having reached only her 31st year; she was in excellent health and radiant with beauty. Besides, her husband roundly charged her with the grossest lasciviousness, and opinion was quite divided as to the truth or falsehood of his charges. What would have been said if it was supposed that I, a batchelor of 45, had intruded myself into this lady's quarrel with her husband, and volunteered to become her champion without fee or reward? Surely the public and the profession would have deeply censured me. Would I have dared to appear before a respectable jury and advocated her cause?"

—It is there rather than upon the monuments which he may have directed his executors to set up that the lessons of Mr. Stewart's life will be read. Many of these lessons will be earnestly enforced, and some of them are sure to be false. "See," the utilitarian will say to the young man just beginning business, "see what industry, patience and intelligence, directed to a single end, will accomplish. By imitating Mr. Stewart's example you may rival his success." That is not true—any more than the solemn assurance which the conventional school speaker used to give the studious and ambitious small boy, that if he learned his lesson and obeyed his teacher he might one day be President of the United States. It is far from true that every skillful and laborious tradesman can come anywhere near the shopkeeping success of Mr. Stewart. Many men, his equals in ability, prudence, thrift and devotion, have died poor. After all the qualities are secured which are needed to command the situation, the situation itself must be furnished. After the man is fully equipped, after he has done all that a man can do, there are still conditions of such exceptional success as Mr. Stewart's over which he has no control. The devout regard it as "providential circumstance." Thoughtless persons call it "luck." The philosophers describe it as "the environment." Whatever it was, it was an essential factor in the career of the great shopkeeper who has just died. Mr. Stewart "knew to take occasion by the hand," but the occasion was not of his making. Probably it will never come in this country to another man.—New York Post.

Reduction in Freight Rates from Chicago to the East.

CHICAGO, April 12.—The committee of pool lines leading from Chicago met to-day, and agreed to reduce the rates on grain to New York to thirty-five cents, on flour seventy cents per barrel, and on fourth class freight to forty cents. The rates to other Eastern points are reduced correspondingly. This is a reduction of five cents per hundred.

Fatal Explosion of Fire Damp.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, April 12, 1876.

SENATE.

Another Finance Bill.

Mr. SPENCER introduced a bill to prevent panics and give elasticity to the legal tender currency without impairing its value, by limiting its amount, together with National bank notes and gold and silver coin in circulation, according to population, to make legal tender notes equal in value to United States Government bonds with the consent and by the action of their owners, and to authorize the issue of legal tender notes and the retirement of the same under certain circumstances and on certain conditions. Referred.

Public Documents.

The bill to provide for the sale of extra copies of public documents and for the distribution of regular official editions thereof passed.

Third Class Mail Matter.

Consideration of the unfinished business, the bill fixing the rate of postage on third class mail matter, was then resumed, the question being on the substitute of Mr. Harvey to restore the old rate of postage on that class of matter.

Mr. DAWES moved to amend the second section of the bill as reported by the committee by striking out the words "of one thousand miles or less," and "for all distances over one thousand miles two cents for each ounce or fractional part thereof," so that it would read "the postage on mail matter of the third class shall be at the following rates: For all distances, one cent for each ounce or fractional part thereof," &c. Agreed to without division.

Mr. PADDOCK submitted an amendment to the substitute of Mr. Harvey so as to allow seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, State and county fair premium lists, and State and county agricultural reports through the mails at one half of the rates heretofore established for third class matter. Rejected.

The question then being on the substitute of Mr. Harvey to restore the old rate of postage, it was rejected—yeas 25, nays 25—as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Bogy, Booth, Burnside, Cameron (Wis.), Cockrell, Dennis, Edmunds, Harvey, Hitchcock, Ingalls, Jones (Fla.), Kelly, McCreery, McDonald, McMillan, Merrimon, Mitchell, Oglesby, Paddock, Ransom, Sargent, Wadleigh, Whyte, Withers and Wright—25.

Nays—Messrs. Allison, Bayard, Boutwell, Carpenter, Cooper, Cragin, Davis, Dawes, Eaton, English, Frelinghuysen, Goldthwaite, Hamilton, Hamlin, Howe, Kernan, Key, Logan, Maxey, Morrill (Me.), Morrill (Vt.), Norwood, Sharon, Sherman and Windom—25.

The question then being on the bill reported by the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, Mr. PADDOCK renewed his amendment in reference to seeds, bulbs, &c., and modified it by adding to the list catalogues.

Mr. WITHERS moved to amend the amendment so as to add books used in the common schools. Rejected—yeas 22, nays 24.

The question then being on the amendment of Mr. Paddock, it was rejected—yeas 20, nays 24.

Mr. WRIGHT moved an amendment to the fifth section so as to allow reports made by charitable or benevolent institutions, associations or boards, through the mails at the rate of one cent for every three ounces or fractional part thereof. Rejected.

The bill was then reported to the Senate, and the amendments made in Committee of the Whole agreed to.

Mr. HARVEY again offered his substitute to restore the old rate of postage, and it was rejected—yeas 23, nays 26.

Mr. DAVIS submitted an amendment so as to transfer all pamphlets, occasional publications, regular publications devoted primarily to advertising purposes, or for free circulation or for circulation at nominal subscription rates, prices current, catalogues, annuals, hand bills, posters, unsealed circulars, prospectuses, books bound or unbound, book manuscript and proof sheets, from the first to the fifth section of the bill, so as to make them pay a rate of postage of one cent for every three ounces, instead of one cent for each ounce. Rejected.

The bill was then read the third time and passed without a division. The bill as passed is as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., That mail matter of the third class shall embrace all pamphlets, occasional publications, regular publications devoted primarily to advertising purposes, or for free circulation or for circulation at nominal subscription rates, prices current, catalogues, annuals, hand bills, posters, unsealed circulars, prospectuses, books bound or unbound, book manuscripts, proof sheets, maps, prints, engravings, blanks, flexible patterns, samples of merchandise, sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes and wrappers, cards, plain and ornamental, paper, photographic representations, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, and all other matter which may be declared mailable by law as third class matter, and all other articles not above the weight prescribed by law, which are not from their form or nature liable to destroy, deface or otherwise injure the contents of mail bags or the person of any one engaged in the postal service. All liquids, poisons, glass, explosive materials and obscene books or papers shall be excluded from the mails.

SECTION 2. That packages of matter of the third class shall not exceed four pounds in weight, and shall be subject to examination and the rates of postage hereinafter provided. The postage on mail matter of the third class shall be at the following rates: For all distances, one cent for each ounce or fractional part thereof. Every package of third class mail matter shall bear the post mark of the office at which the same shall be mailed for transportation.

SEC. 3. That postage on third class matter should be prepaid by stamps. If, however, postage on third-class matter mailed at an office shall be less than the full amount above prescribed, in cases where the sender is known such sender shall be notified of the fact, and the amount of postage due shall be collected from such sender before the same shall be transmitted by mail. In case the sender is not known, and where it has been the evident intention of the party so depositing a package to place less than the full postage thereon, such package shall be forwarded and double the amount of deficient postage shall be collected from the party to whom it is addressed or delivered at its proper destination.

SEC. 4. That the sender of any article of the third class of mail matter may write his or her name and address therein, or on the outside thereof, with the word "from" above or preceding the same, or may write briefly or print on any package the number and names of articles enclosed. Publishers of newspapers and periodicals may print on the wrappers of newspapers or magazines sent from the office of publication to regular subscribers the time to which such subscription therefor has been paid.

SEC. 5. That transient newspapers and magazines shall be admitted to and transmitted in the mails at the rate of one cent for every three ounces or fractional part thereof, and one cent for each two additional ounces or fractional part thereof.

SEC. 6. That this act shall take effect on and after the first day of July, 1876.

The Senate then took up the bill to repave Pennsylvania avenue in Washington. Pending discussion the Senate went into executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.

The Silver Bill.

The bill to supply the deficiency in the Printing Bureau of the Treasury Department—the silver bill—came up, and the Senate amendments were concurred in without debate and without a division. The bill now goes to the President.

Credit Mobilier.

Mr. HOAR offered a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire what steps have been taken for properly representing the interests of the United States in the suit instituted against the Credit Mobilier and others under the provisions of the act of the 3d of March, 1873, and also whether the Union Pacific Railroad Company has not forfeited its charter, and whether the same should not be repealed because the company has resisted recovery in its behalf of its capital stock wrongfully withdrawn by means of fictitious construction contracts and unlawful dividends. Adopted.

Entertainment of Centennial Visitors.

Mr. COX offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Foreign Affairs to consider what action should be taken to enable the President to receive and entertain the Emperor of Brazil and President of Peru, who are soon to arrive in this country. Referred.

The Deficiency Bill.

The House then took up the Deficiency bill. The bill was amended in various minor particulars and passed.

The Tariff.

Mr. MORRISON, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill to revise and simplify existing laws imposing duties on imports. Made a special order for the 26th of April.

The Indian Bureau.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the bill to transfer the Indian Bureau to the War Department, and was addressed by Mr. COOK in support of the bill.

At the close of Mr. Cook's speech the committee rose and the House took a recess until 7:30.

EVENING SESSION.

The first paragraph that provoked any discussion in the Legislative appropriation bill was that appropriating $60,000 for detecting and furnishing violations of the internal revenue laws.

Mr. HILL moved to strike out the appropriation.

After an animated discussion the motion was rejected.

The item for the Bureau of Statistics was the next stumbling block. After some discussion of it the committee rose in order to have the discussion closed, and then as the members on the Republican side could not get ten minutes longer for discussion they insisted that the business should not be proceeded with in the absence of a quorum. Without making any further progress in the bill the House adjourned.

SAMOAN COMPLICATIONS.

A Conspiracy to Oust the American Premier of the Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Among the passengers on the Australian steamer Granada was P. A. Jennings, accredited as Commissioner from New South Wales, Queensland, and Tasmania, to the Centennial, and Frank Platt, Esq., Diplomatic Agent of the Samoan Government, accredited to Washington.

The news from Samoa is conflicting. Correspondence published in the New Zealand Star of March 13, says that the natives have become dissatisfied on account of the demands for funds made by Sternberger for himself and certain American retainers. King Malistoa requested United States Consul Foster, by letter, to rid him of Sternberger, he having come to the conclusion that he was a fraud. Foster applied to Captain Stevens, of H. B. ship Barracouta, and a meeting was held, in which the King denounced Sternberger as a liar and an impostor, and charged him with being responsible for the trouble between the Government and foreign representatives. Sternberger was then placed in confinement on board the Barracouta, where he remained at last advices.

Frank Platt, who left Samoa several days before these occurrences, states that there is no truth in the report, as when he left the King and Sternberger were on confidential terms. He states that the London Missionery Society at Samoa is at the bottom of the trouble, as the innovations introduced by Sternberger were interfering with their income; also, certain European companies who have had a monopoly of the trade, feared the influence of an American in power on the islands. Foster, he said, had been made the tool of the conspirators. The United States ship of war Tuscarora was expected to arrive at the island shortly. Platt is on his way to Washington with dispatches.

GOOD NEWS FOR SHIPPERS.

A General Railroad War Imminent.

NEW YORK, April 12.—At a meeting to-day of representatives of Chicago pool lines, the Michigan Central, Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne and Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Mr. Joy, President of the Michigan Central, becoming dissatisfied with the proceedings, left the room, and the meeting was at an end. The course taken by Mr. Joy breaks up the pool on east bound freight in Chicago and also destroys all existing agreements in regard to rates on east and west bound freight among great trunk lines, and a general railroad war may be expected. Advices received from Chicago state that tickets to New York over the Michigan Central and Erie roads are being sold at two dollars less than regular rates. These reductions will be promptly met by the managers of the New York Central, and other trunk lines will no doubt follow their example.

Fires in the West.

ST. LOUIS, April 12.—A fire at Fulton, Mo., early this morning, destroyed some twenty business houses. No individual loss is over $8,000, but the aggregate amounts to about $75,000. No insurance.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., April 12.—The extensive planing mill of Smith & Parker, located directly on the falls of St. Anthony, was destroyed by fire this evening. The cause of the fire is unknown. Loss $25,000; insured for $8,000.

SECOND EDITION

FROM WASHINGTON.

Gen. Hedrick Examined on Post Traderships.

Gen. Babcock Denies All Knowledge of the Safe Burglary Conspiracy.

WASHINGTON, April 13, 1876.

Hallet Kilbourn.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the House informed Chief Justice Carter to-day that he held Kilbourn subject to a further order of the House, and the Judge postponed further proceedings under the writ of habeas corpus till Saturday.

Post Traderships.

Gen. Hedrick was examined by the Clymer Committee to-day. His evidence was to the effect that he is interested in post traderships at Fort Buford, Fort Lincoln and Fort Fetterman; has a one-third interest in each, but never put any capital in either. He helped to secure these post traderships, and was a personal friend of Secretary Belknap. It was no part of the consideration for a one-third interest that Gen. Hedrick should use his influence with Secretary Belknap about appointing Layton. He said he would not have interested himself in this matter if he had not had a personal interest in the business. He had received nothing from Fort Lincoln; from the others perhaps $10,000.

Gen. Hedrick was examined at great length as to the capital invested at the several posts, but he could not give any information. He said he had not drawn out all of his profits, but did not recall how much was still in the business. Prior to the Fort Fetterman affair Layton and he secured the posts at Fort Griffin and Fort Couchen. They were equal partners, and got out of the posts about $2,000; never got any profit out of Fort Laramie. He secured the appointment at Camp Supply for his brother, brother-in-law and himself. Reynolds took him into partnership with one-third interest in the profits, and he got about $2,000 out of this post. He never received any money from any one for appointments as post traders other than those mentioned. From all his post tradership business he has received less than $15,000. He could not recollect asking Gen. Belknap for a post tradership when he was refused. His influence with Belknap was due to serving in the same regiment with him for four years, and his applications were strongly endorsed. Gen. Belknap never knew that he (Hedrick) was interested in any of these posts. Belknap had never received any benefits, past, present or prospective.

James Trainer, post trader, was recalled. He reiterated the charge that he paid Simon Wolf, Recorder of Deeds of Washington, two hundred and fifty dollars for assistance in getting his post.

Taxation of National Banks.

A delegation representing National banks, including Mr. Fallis, of Cincinnati, and Mr. English, of Indianapolis, appeared before the Committee on Ways and Means to-day, and advocated the repeal of the provisions of the National bank law imposing taxes on capital and deposits. They spoke in favor of legislation prohibiting the imposition of municipal and State taxation at a greater rate than the par value of the bank shares, and argued for the repeal of the two cent stamp tax.

Civil Service Investigation.

The Committee on Civil Service continued the investigation into the case of Representative Purman to-day. Henry Crews, of Florida, testified that he was appointed timber agent in Florida. Purman obtained the appointment for him. He told him he would get forty-one dollars per month and have nothing to do. He never performed any duty as timber agent, and never knew where the timber reservation was.

New Mexico.

The House Committee on Territories voted to amend the bill making New Mexico a State, so as to provide that the election for the adoption of the State Constitution shall be held in June, 1877, instead of not later than January, as proposed. This will prevent the new State from taking part in the next Presidential election.

The Safe Burglary.

General Babcock pronounces false the story of Miles, a convict in a Windsor (Vermont) prison, published to-day, in which he declares that the General was acquainted with all the details of the safe burglary.

The Emma Mine.

The Committee on Foreign Affairs again met to consider the Emma Mine case, and examined Park. In answer to questions, Park said he should have acted toward Gen. Schenck as he did even if Gen. Schenck had not been American Minister.

FOREIGN ADVICES.

RUSSIA.

The Political Situation.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 12.—The Wedmosti, reviewing the political situation in Europe, says that the relations of the great powers to each other leave many things to be wished for. England and Russia distrust each other. The relations between Russia and Austria are not clear. Andrassy's position is rumored to be ambiguous, but a new ministry would make the friendship between Austria and Russia very doubtful. An understanding cannot be considered satisfactory if it depends upon this or that person who for the moment holds the helm. Gemany's demeanor at present does not foreshadow her future course. Under these circumstances it must not be overlooked how readily a difference upon the eastern question might precipitate a conflict between Germany and Russia.

TURKEY.

Servians Going to the Frontier.

BELGRADE, April 12.—The militia of this city are about to start for the frontier.

War Loans.

The voluntary national loan has proved unsuccessful. The Government has resolved to levy a forced loan of ten dollars a head.

SPAIN.

The Government Assailed.

LONDON, April 12.—The Times' Madrid letter says that the Government of Castillo is assailed in the press and in the pulpit with boundless virulence and violence. The Pope threatens the immediate withdrawal from Madrid of the Papal Nuncio if article 11 of the new Constitution is adopted.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Colliers on a Strike.

LONDON, April 12.—Upwards of 20,000 colliers are on a strike in South Yorkshire against fifteen per cent. reduction of wages. The Miners' Union agreed to a reduction of ten per cent., but the masters insist upon fifteen.

FRANCE.

Communist's Pardoned.

PARIS, April 12.—President MacMahon has pardoned several inhabitants of Marseilles, who were imprisoned for participation in the Commune.

LIGHTNING'S WORK.

Flashes in the Oil Country—Three Tanks Burned at Bear Creek Station — Another Struck at Beaver Pipe Station—Loss Over $100,000.

PARKER' LANDING, PA., April 12.—At 8:20 A. M. a twelve thousand barrel oil tank belonging to Grandin & Neyhart, situated at Bear Creek Station, A. V. R. R., was struck by lightning, bursting the upper rings of the tank, and throwing the oil over two adjoining tanks of the Union Pipe Company. At 2:30 P. M. the three tanks were still burning, involving a loss of about forty thousand barrels of oil, ten thousand of which belongs to Grandin & Neyhart and the remainder to the Union Pipe Company. Persons having credit balances in the line will be assessed pro rata according to the loss sustained. The tanks burned are valued at fifteen thousand dollars, and the oil lost will amount to eighty thousand dollars.

The Atlantic Pipe Company's twenty-five thousand barrel iron tank at Beaver Pipe Station was also struck by lightning at 4:30 this morning, and after burning four hours was extinguished by the agency of steam. The probable loss is two thousand dollars.

Suit Against the Texas Pacific Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—A dispatch from San Diego says a suit has been brought against the Texas Pacific Railroad for the recovery of lands deeded by the city in consideration of building the road from San Diego to the Colorada river. The company has failed to comply with the conditions of the grant. The property involved is stated to amount to five million dollars.

The Brown Brothers

····The election in the Fourteenth ward, to fill the vacancy in Select Council caused by the resignation of Mr. J. B. Glass, will not take place on Saturday next, as was expected, for the reason that the Mayor did not issue his proclamation in time.

····The following gentlemen have been elected directors of the Anchor Savings Bank for the ensuing year: Major A. M. Brown, Dr. W. S. Foster, Wm. M. Vogleson, Geo. Glass, John Kelly, David Gilmore, Col. John Ewing, G. Y. Coulter and Henry Smith.

······The screw propeller Mike Dougherty, the property of W. H. Brown, & Co., caught fire about two o'clock yesterday morning and suffered a destruction of the cabin roof and upper works. The loss amounts to about $300. The boat was moored at Brown's landing, below the city, at the time.

····At yesterday's session of Allegheny Presbytery, of the Presbyterian Church, at Dr. Swift's church, on Arch street, the case of R. P. Nevin was sent to the Synod for decision there. Rev. Mr. Robinson, Rev. W. H. Gill, Mr. Singleton and Mr. T. B. Kerr were elected delegates to the General Assembly.

····The Directory canvassers are having some amusing experience among the unsophisticated inhabitants of our city. Many of them think the canvassers are levying tax. Some refuse to give their name and business, but in most cases with a little urbanity they become satisfied that no evil design in the form of extorting money is in the operation.

····A Sunday School Convention will be held to-day in the Sandusky street Baptist church, Allegheny, commencing at ten o'clock A. M., and continuing during the afternoon and evening. An interesting programme of exercises is arranged for the meeting. All friends of Sunday schools are invited to attend.

····A man giving the name of W. Morrison, was arrested yesterday by Detective Pender, charged with issuing counterfeit fifty cent script. He had been shoving it on the cheap jewelry people about the Market House pretty lively. On his person was was found about five dollars of the vile stuff. Commissioner Gamble held him in $1,500 bail for the May term.

····Mary Ann Beveridge, a young woman of Sharpsburg, lodged an information yesterday before Alderman McKelvy, of Allegheny charging Thomas Ogelvey, with being the father of her child. Defendant was arrested while working at his trade, and was committed to jail to await a hearing. The defendant is willing to marry the prosecutrix, who, however, declines to entertain any nuptial propositions.

····Tuesday evening last a four year old child fell into a well on the premises of its father, Mr. Schetzell, in Temperanceville, whose escape from drowning seems almost miraculous. It was just recovering from an attack of the measles, and had for the first time been allowed to go out to play. The well, which contained fully seventy-five feet of water, was open, and the little thing stumbled and fell into it. The father being near at hand succeeded in getting it out before any serious results had followed. It is feared that the cold bath may have a bad effect, and possibly cause a relapse.

THE FIRE COMMISSION.

Regular Meeting Last Night—The Penalty for an Attachment of Wages—Monthly Reports.

The Fire Commission last evening held a regular monthly meeting, Mr. George W. Wilson in the chair. A petition from a number of citizens of the Oakland district of the Fourteenth ward, asking for a quantity of hose to be placed in the Oakland car stables, for use in case of fire alone, was granted.

Secretary Case made the following report for March. Expenditures $11,773.19, of which amount $9,058.09 was for salaries. Expenditures previously during the year $23,501.87. The balance in the appropriation April 1, 1876 amounted to $126,760.63.

Chief Engineer Evans made the following report for March. Total number of fires and alarms fifteen, with a total loss of $40,900 as far as ascertained.

April 5th, in responding to an alarm from station 126, the carriage of hose Company No. 1 collided with a heavy wagon and the spring of the carriage was broken. A few repairs to hose carriages, engines and engine houses were recommended for the consideration of the Board. The resignations of several members of the department were also reported. William J. Wilson, of Hook and Ladder "B," was appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned in the engine company on Seventh avenue by the death of Robert Miller, who was killed at the fire on March 26th. The Chief also reported the appointment of a number of men to fill vacancies occasioned by resignations and a number of transfers. All were approved, except the appointment of Mr. Wilson, which was laid over until the next meeting. The recommendations relative to repairs, &c., were referred to the appropriate committees, with power to act.

A request from the Market Committee for six sections of hose to clear the market square with, was referred to the Committee on Apparatus to sell the required amount.

A resolution was adopted instructing the Chief Engineer to discharge any member of the department whose wages may be attached for board or clothing from this date forward.

A number of bills were read and ordered to be printed. The Commission then adjourned.

CUTTING DOWN.

Reduction in Telegraph Rates.

It will be a gratification to those who are obliged to use the telegraph wires in the transaction of their business, to learn that the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company has reduced its rates from Pittsburgh to New York and Jersey City to forty cents for a message not exceeding ten words in length, and to thirty-five cents for the same to Philadelphia. The limit of words in a night or half rate message, we might also state, has been increased from ten to twenty. The rate for night messages, as is pretty generally known, is just one-half that charged for telegrams sent in the day time. This is a commendable and praiseworthy stroke of enterprise on the part of the A. & P. Company, and we have no doubt that many will take advantage of it. The barrier that has always prevented a widespread use of the telegraph in attending to nearly all kinds of business consists in the high rates charged, but if the A. & P. Company pursues the course it has commenced it will soon bring into general use what has heretofore been employed in cases of necessity. The offices of the company are at 118 Wood street, 307 Liberty street, at the corner of Duquesne Way and Seventh street, at Gilmore's boat store, on Water street, at the West Penn depot, in Allegheny, and at the East Liberty stock yards.

"To the Rescue" is the heading to an appeal elsewhere in this paper for relief. It comes from the ladies in charge of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny "Home for the Friendless." The beneficiaries of this well-known and excellent charity are little children, that else would be homeless as they are helpless. The number of them now sheltered and cared for exceeds eighty, at times one hundred. The necessities that press upon the managers are sore and urgent. So severe indeed are they, that the maintainance of the Home seems almost hopeless, but the good women who have labored in season and out of season for these four score helpless ones, will not give them up to the chances of vice, destitution and death, but once more appeal to all benevolent and godly people, and we emphasize this appeal as one that challenges a prompt and generous response. "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord. He will repay."

TAKING FORCIBLE POSSESSION.

Whiting's Auction Room Besieged—The Door Smashed in and the Place in a State of Siege—Arrests and Informations.

It was not enough that Fifth avenue should be the scene of commotion on account of Mat. Morgan's Statuary alone, but another source of trouble was developed yesterday forenoon. Constables Fairburn and McCoubra, of Alderman Barr's court, notified Mr. Whiting that they intended to take possession of his establishment for Mr. Coleman, the owner of the building. Mr. Whiting promptly informed them that he still held a lease on the property, and that he had not the remotest idea of giving up possession. They insisted that the writ of ejectment which they held was sufficient warrant for them ejecting him and his store, peaceably if they could, and forcibly if they must. Mr. Whiting, it is alleged, told them they were not strong enough to do it, and displayed a revolver. Whereupon a rumpus was kicked up, which resulted in two or three of the party getting pretty badly hit. Detective Rivers coming along at that time rushed in and arrested one of the Constables and took him to the lock-up on a charge of disorderly conduct, but as soon as he learned the nature of the case he was released.

Shortly after this set to, D. Maxwell, attorney for Coleman & Ramaley, went before the Mayor and made informations against Nathan Whiting, David Henry, W. Maxwell, Joseph Elliott et al., charging them with assault and battery, and obstructing legal process. The Mayor's officers went around to arrest the parties, but found the door fastened and the inmates disinclined to come out or let them in. As soon as Mr. Whiting found what action had been taken, he and those with him went to the Mayor and entered bail for a hearing to-morrow.

About half past two o'clock the two constables went to the door and found it closed. Admission was again refused, whereupon they armed themselves with a heavy piece of timber and smashed the door. Those inside made no resistance whatever. It was then agreed that Mr. Whiting should remain in peaceable possession a sufficient length of time to allow him to secure and remove his goods to another place. Mr. Coleman alleges that Mr. Whiting is only a tenant at will, and can be ousted after receiving the usual notice, which was duly done. Mr. W. denies that he is such a tenant, and asserts that he holds a regular lease on the property.

The true inwardness of the whole matter appears to be that Mr. Mashey has long been desirous of obtaining the room occupied by Ramaley's hat store, in order that he could move his restaurant and bar into it, and make a beer garden of the basement which he now occupies. The arrangement was for Mr. Ramaley to move into the room occupied by Mr. Whiting, in order to let Mashey carry out his design. Whiting refused to move, hence the trouble. No doubt there will be other suits grow out of this before a final settlement is reached.

NEW GAS WORKS.

Another Idea in Opposition to the Allegheny Monopoly.

A new project has been started by some members of the Allegheny Councils and other citizens. It is concerning the erection and operation of a new gas works by the city. They claim that the city can run a gas works as well as it can a water works, and furnish gas much cheaper than it is now supplied. The buildings and gasometers can be placed on the water works lot at little cost, and it is said that the pipe can be got at a less price now than for many years past. The matter will probably be presented in Select Council this evening.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 113¼.

YESTERDAY was balmy and warm—a most delightful Spring day.

THAT banker's blast at BLAINE was a boomerang which hurt its originator, rather than the man at whom it was aimed.

THE Democrats at Harrisburg have at last been driven to fix a time for adjournment. May 5th is the time fixed upon—just five days before the Centennial opens. This will admit of their remaining to the jamboree.

FOR such a vast volume of smoke, the Democratic investigations have revealed in the Navy Department, very little fire. The developments thus far are immensely out of proportion to the terrible charges so loudly bruited abroad.

THE dangerous character of oil tanks was again illustrated yesterday by a heavy fire at Parker. We have often suggested, and repeat it now, that some inventive genious should discover a method whereby oil in tanks can be protected from lightning.

OUR school authorities are actively preparing for the Centennial Exposition. The display of books, illustrating features of our educational system, will be very fine. Superintendent Luckey has been particularly active in getting up the display, which will reflect credit on our school system.

HON. H. M. LONG appeared before the Investigating Committee yesterday, and frankly testified in the water bond case. He explicitly and positively denied that he had any connection or knowledge of water bond transactions, and that he did not receive to the amount of a cent, money from that source.

SOME of those conservators of public morals—the representatives of the Press—will enlighten the Mayor this morning, in accordance with his kind request, officially communicated, as to the probable influence in a moral and artistic way, of the exhibition which is "billed" for the Fifth Avenue Comedy theatre this week.

CHARLES O'CONNOR rises to explain about that large fee which he was charged with retaining in the FORREST divorce case. He brushes away the accusations against him, by facts and figures, which show that he received not $56,000 as a fee, but $7,500, and that all the other money was a return of what had been borrowed during the fourteen years of litigation.

ONE of the witnesses before the Investigating Committee yesterday opened up a broadside on Senator WOOD, and that Legislator-humorist may find it profitable to relieve his suffering fellow-Senators from the weight of his wit, and come home to do a little more practical work in the way of explaining why he was so loud-mouthed for retrenchment, and yet was so much the reverse when it came to voting in Councils.

SPEAKER PATTERSON is in the way of hearing some plain truths. The Centennial idea doesn't exactly smooth the ruffled feelings of the members who have been scotched with the Boom bill. Yet despite the complaints, we imagine that Speaker PATTERSON appointed a generally excellent committee, and they have developed considerable information. However, what they lack, the Senate investigation will make good.

STRENUOUS efforts have been made, from time to time, to strike at BLAINE, and a person has at last been found who accuses him of having received $64,000 from the Union Pacific Railroad. Unfortunately for the success of this political trick the man lied too far. He attempted to point out the exact manner in which payment was made, and the two outside parties involved positively deny the truth of his story. Reports against Presidential candidates at this time are to be taken with many grains of allowance.

THEY have just come out of a municipal contest, in Chicago, in which the men who "run the machine" beat by means of some nice ballot box arrangements. It turns out, however, to be one of those triumphs which will not be submitted to. The people, cheated, angered and disgusted, have risen up in their might and determined that they will not submit to the outrage. So meetings have been held, and steps taken to oust the gentlemen who counted themselves in. Chicago has the virtue to resist open wrong.

THE managers of the impeachment proceedings against Gen. BELKNAP are busy looking up authorities and getting their case methodically arranged. The subcommittee, who are looking into the question of jurisdiction, have unearthed voluminous testimony on that point from the law books, and are confident of making their case clear. The country will hear with pleasure that the whole nasty business is not to be brought down so low as has been feared,—for BEN. BUTLER is not engaged in the case on either side.

IT IS shrewdly hinted that there may be a little job in the way those Democratic committees are issuing certificates to witnesses and flooding the market. Those certificates are now down to forty and fifty cents on the dollar, and are even advertised for sale at such prices. The fact gives rise to the grave suspicion that it is the intention of the Democratic House to bring the securities down to the lowest possible figure, when certain parties will step in and buy them up. In this way at least fifty thousand dollars might be made, as the certificates already aggregate over one hundred thousand dollars. The promises of the House Committees are now at a lower figure than any Government paper was ever quoted before.

THE lines are palpably drawing around BABCOCK, and he will be lucky if he escapes the dangers that gather about him. AVERY, his old-time friend, who soon departs for the penitentiary, has testfied against him, and others of greater or lesser standing. It is declared by the several witnesses that he, with HARRINGTON arranged the Safe Burglary, and paid the detectives who gave effect to that mysterious operation. It is difficult to imagine what was BABCOCK's motive. The assault on ALEXANDER interested other parties more than BABCOCK, unless he was deep in the Ring operations of Washington. He has been accused of this but denies, stating that the measurements complained of were made by subordinates. Altogether he is in a very crooked place, and will be under the necessity of fighting hard to get out.

THE tariff bill, gotten up in England, and forwarded to MR. MORRISON to be brought forward in Congress, is on the eve of being reported. It is said to be the most helter-skelter affair of the kind ever reported in an American Congress. Even Democrats of prominence, such as RANDALL, refuse to support it. Of course it will be opposed by Republicans generally, by many of them on principle, and others on the score of party policy. In any event it cannot pass in the Senate, as it is Republican, and will not endorse Democratic measures on the tariff question. The whole affair represents a case of love's labor lost, and will simply serve to consume time without any corresponding result. Its worst phase is its playing into English hands as against American policy and ideas. As a national organization, the Democratic party will be badly scotched by the time the present Congress expires.

OUR Washington correspondence, a day or two since, detailed the scheme of the House to repay war debts to the amount of some $20,000,000, the object being to benefit the South. This is not so bad as the cotton claim business, which has swelled in volume to nearly $20,000,000 more. Secretary BRISTOW, however, refuses to allow these claims, except where they are perfectly clear. Thus there are of claims decided, 9,222; amount claimed, $19,263,437.51; amount allowed, $3,057,894.09; amount disallowed, $16,205,543.42. These claims cover other matters than that of cotton; all kinds of property having been destroyed. Some of them are advanced by persons claiming to have been Union men, but in the destruction entailed by the exigencies of war, no distinction can be justly made. It is safe to assume, however, that the greatest proportion of these claims come from persons who were avowedly secessionists, and who went into the struggle believing that the result would be advantageous to them pecuniarily. At all events, the United States cannot undertake to pay these claims.

THE passage of arms between American and Mexican troops at New Laredo is regarded as a threatening occurrence, in that it may involve further hostilities between the United States and Mexico. The fight is reported as having been a "hot one." The detailed dispatches from Galveston and Laredo sufficiently show the conduct of the Mexican Federal General QUINTANA as having been not better toward American citizens than of the revolutionist leaders. It may be, and it must be even expected, that PORFIRIO DIAZ will not be slower than President LERDO DE TEJADA in disapproving the harsh treatment inflicted by their officers upon foreign citizens, but of what possible and practical use can such diplomatic but vain disapproval be to Americans? Internal war is now raging in Mexico, and there the first duty of the Washington Government has been fulfilled, as shown by the instructions already sent to General POTTER and to the commandant of the gunboat "Rio Bravo." American officers were ordered to remain neutral between the belligerent Mexicans, but to protect against either of them, without regard to consequences, any American citizen in need of assistance. The worst feature of the revolution, of which the incident referred to above is an outcropping, is the danger of the absolute disintegration of the Mexican Republic. This will indeed require the intervention of our Government.

THE war in the provinces of Turkey, in Europe, is rapidly assuming the aspect of a religious war. Once it takes this shape, it will be a most terrible affair. The Christians feel deeply the many years of oppression and suffering they have endured from the Mohammedans, and that now is their opportunity to resent it. The Bosnian Governor has already put this idea in the form of a tangible suggestion. This, in spite of every effort to suppress it, will spread like wildfire throughout all the provinces, and will excite men to action who could not be reached in any other way. Herzegovina has already the active sympathy of those provinces which once suffered the same wrongs and attained quasi independence by revolt, as well as those that themselves need the relief for which Herzegovina is struggling. Ever since the insurrection shaped itself, Herzegovina has had the moral support, and such surreptitious aid as could be given, from the adjoining provinces of Croatia, Montenegro, Bosnia and Servia. But now there are advices, which seem to be authoritative, that Bosnia and Servia will furnish troops, and really join in the revolution, if Austria will hold her hands off. This is the direct result of the encouragement that the provinces have received of late from Russia, conveyed through the inspired utterances of the Russian newspapers, the purport of which is that Russia will guarantee that there shall be no interference in the effort of the provinces for their own independence. If this assurance has been made in good faith, it may be reasonably expected that the revolt will speedily extend to all the provinces that are still ruled by Turkey, and that it will receive the active support of all those which have already achieved their independence. The effect of this will be either to separate her provinces from Turkey, or a general European war. If Russia can hold Austria and the other great powers neutral, the provinces will achieve independence from Turkish rule. If Austria interferes, it may result in a contest between Russia and other powers. In any view, the situation is grave, and many apprehensions are entertained of irrepressible trouble. We imagine that the power of Turkey will be greatly reduced, ere long.

OUR INVESTIGATION.

The investigation into the management of our municipal affairs is sufficiently near its close for us to form some estimate of its drift and purpose. Wandering and erratic as it at first seemed, it has nevertheless, developed a large amount of testimony, which harmonizes with the idea that it is very essential that a reform be effected in the management of municipal affairs. While little was traced to an ultimate conclusion, enough of looseness was discovered for it to be clear that a large amount has been unnecessarily expended, and through the water bond transactions, nearly a half a million was unfortunately lost. We say lost,—as while the city has been secured, still our citizens who were stockholders in the Nation Trust Company are compelled to raise the amount,—the proceeds of the bonds having entirely vanished. We have not had these proceeds traced, as a rule to the parties who used them, yet hints and intimations have been made. The main value of the investigation, however, turns on the fact developed, that much looseness has existed, by which, so far as the city at large is concerned, money has been lost.

If, from these general facts, of unnecessary outlays on contracts, and the loss of money, the conclusion is reached that a better system of Government can be devised, we think the investigation will not have been in vain. The regular officials of the city Government perform their duties safely and well; but the outside operations have been less successfully conducted. Something should be done to remedy this evil, and yet what is the troublesome question. The policy of commissions has not proven particularly successful, either here or elsewhere. What can we substitute? Shall it be committees of Councils? If so, where great public improvements are in progress, should those committees be required to perform their duties without compensation? Or can we have a general commission to supervise all public works? For a time, other than necessary street improvements, we probably will not require a large expenditure of money in public affairs. Yet it cannot be doubted that the entire question of Municipal Government must be subjected to a rigid and thorough inspection, and some comprehensive system devised, whereby we can be governed for less money than we are. Able minds have given attention to this subject, yet we have seen nothing that seemed to meet the requirements of the case. It is possible, from the drift and inconclusive character of our investigation that the report will be made to bear on the necessity for a Municipal commission, such as was suggested by Governor HARTRANFT, to consider the best methods of governing cities. And if the evidence taken serves to intensify the fact that something is necessary, in this line, it will be well.

THE FREIGHT CONTROVERSY.

Intelligence from Washington is to the effect that the railroads do not intend to oppose the freight discrimination bill, preferring that it should pass, as it would legally relieve them from a very embarrassing duty. The reason given is so correct, that we hope and incline to believe the purpose of the railroad companies is as stated. We are well aware that those who control freight rates are beset by manifold and often powerful influences, and that rates are sometimes fixed against their better judgment. True, the discrimination against Pittsburgh, on the trunk lines, seems harsh and unfair, but when the subject is analyzed, it will be seen that the opposing influence centred in some large city or interest. Thus Philadelphia and New York have had much better rates than has Pittsburgh, but the shippers of those cities were on the alert to urge their interests on the attentiou of the railroad authorities. It has long been a subject of remark that Pittsburgh has been defective in this, and that she has suffered as a result. All these facts should inspire perseverance in the movement now in progress, as sure success will attend properly continued efforts. There is no need of feeling or trouble, if the railroad authorities take the view ascribed to them. It then becomes simply a question of so adapting the laws that apply to railroads, as to compel them to afford to all towns and cities suitable freight rates. The companies will thus be relieved from the pressure that is now upon them, and can do justly, pleading the legal necessity for doing so.

In prosecuting this subject, however, there should be fuller data elicited than we have had thus far. Could we know the aggregate imports and exports from this city over the lines of railroad, the amount of freight paid in excess of what is demanded for the same distance from other towns, we would have the data upon which to offer a startling exhibit of facts. Of the decline of our industries, and the struggling condition of our manufactures, we can speak intelligently now. We fancy, however, that were a correct statement of the excess of freights made, it would be seen that Pittsburgh loses enough yearly to place her in a prosperous condition as regards trade. Our facilities for many forms of business are very fine. Situated midway between the great Eastern and Western cities, we have the advantage of position, as regards distance. With the facilities for iron manufacture in the varied forms, and systems of manufacture developed, till we can compete with some of the oldest establishments in Europe, we are in position to compete with iron works at any point on the continent. We have oil wells, nearer our city than they are to any other great refining centre; yet our refining interests have been driven to the wall, simply by the discriminations in freights. The evil rectified, and our oil and other interests will improve, and we will soon rise from our depression and stand free from complication, difficulty and depression.

IMPRISONED IN A SEWER.

Three Days and Nights of Horrible Agony.

Michael Gelgiman, a well-known sneak thief, residing in Elizabeth, N. J., who has been under the surveillance of the Police for some time, was discovered on Thursday last in the act of attempting to rob the money-drawer in Jackson's saloon, near the Singer Sewing-machine Works. He ran into the street and was chased by an officer, who pursued him closely for several blocks. The thief ran down to the foot of Trumbull street and darted into the mouth of a large sewer which empties into the river. The officer procured a lantern and followed him a short distance, but was finally so much overcome by the gases and offensive odors that he was compelled to retrace his steps. In the meantime Gelgiman, who had seen the gleam of light from the lantern in the hands of the officer, crawled into one of the branches connecting with the main sewer and made his way to a man-hole, through which he hoped to make his escape, but he found he could not climb up the sides of the manhole. After wasting his strength in desperate but ineffectual struggles to release himself, his agony became intensified on finding that the tide was rapidly rising. The water rose until it reached his breast, and he was nearly suffocated by the fetid atmosphere he was compelled to breathe. He could hear only faintly the noise of the traffic on the street above, and he shouted while a particle of strength remained, but his voice could not be heard. When the water receded he renewed his struggles until he fell fainting and completely exhausted into the mud and filth with which the bottom of the sewer was covered. His face came in contact with some water flowing through, and this seemed to revive him. Then he began to crawl backward, and his utter despair produced a feeling of desperation, which imbued him with a new strength, and he continued his desperate struggles until at 8 o'clock Sunday morning he was overjoyed at finding himself again at the mouth of the main sewer. He fell unconscious on the sandy shore, where he was discovered by some passers-by, who rendered him assistance. He was in a horrible condition. The flesh was worn off his fingers, and the nails had almost entirely disappeared. His hands and knees were bleeding, and in some places, the bones were exposed. His head was one mass of bruises where it had come in contract with the brick walls, and his clothing was torn into shreds. He was covered with dirt and filth from head to foot, so that he bore only a slight resemblance to a human being. He had been in the sewer three nights and nearly three days, but they seemed to him to be months. Gelgiman was taken to Police Headquarters and thence removed to the Alms-House for medical treatment. Being a man of unusually strong constitution, he may recover from the effects of his forced imprisonment, but it is considered very doubtful. As it is thought he has been sufficiently punished already the charge of larceny will not be pressed against him in case he should recover.

Hearty Eating in Sweden.

A letter from Sweden to the San Francisco Chronicle says: "The one national custom which I particularly remarked among the Swedes and Finlanders was their eating of what is called "smorgasbord," that is, standing and partaking of a lunch before sitting down to table. At the entrance of the dining room in every hotel and on board every steamer is a sideboard furnished with bread, butter, cheese, sardines and other fish preserved in oil, several kinds of cold meat, not forgetting a good supply of "knackbrod," a hard-baked, thin and brittle sort of brown bread, made, I should think, of course oatmeal. At this table every one as he enters the dining-room stops and takes not merely an appetizing bite, but what I should call a full meal, which he is sure not to forget to moisten with a glass or two of raw brandy or other strong liquor, also upon the table; after this he immediately seats himself at the table and commences his regular meal. I could understand this habit were the tables in Sweden served as I have often found them in other countries, where the guests are kept waiting half an hour for their soup and twenty minutes after every scanty course. But the Swedes are a nation of good livers, and they allow themselves an abundant and nutritious diet; the Swedish workman, I am told, indulges in five or six meals a day.

England's Queen.

An old scandal concerning the Queen has recently been revived, and it has shown to have deeper hold on the popular mind than had been imagined. On the day before the Queen went in state to the East End of London, a man paraded Regent street bearing a placard on which was printed in large letters, "Will John Brown go to Whitechapel?" The obnoxious John Brown did, in a prominent way, appear at the royal ceremonial, and though the regular newspapers did not notice the fact, he was jeered at along the route by the crowds. I do not mention this because I believe there is any foundation for the scandal in question, but only to note it as additional evidence that the sentiment once surrounding the throne in this country has distinctly fallen. Her Majesty's disappearance from public life lowered it, and her recent occasional appearances lower it still more. In plain truth, the Queen is very homely, and she gets no lovelier fast, and it is a question which not even the astuteness of her theatrical Prime Minister can decide whether the luster of the English throne is more dimmed by her appearances in state or by her seclusions.—Cincinnati Commercial.

A Murderer's Religious Zeal.

Pesach N. Rubenstein, the New York murderer, began the celebration of the Jewish feast of the Passover on Saturday night. He put on a long white cloak, trimmed his lamp, prayed fervently standing before the light, and read the history of the Passover. The cloak, on the neck and hem of which are Hebraic characters, and the little lamp, had been brought to him by his father, who also furnished sweetened cakes of dough and water, honey, dried and canned fruits, and butter. He was asleep on the floor of his cell yesterday afternoon. He has, since he commenced his feast, refused to do anything that might be considered manual labor, and would not wind his watch.

NEW BOOKS.

THE OLDEN TIME; A Monthly Publication, Devoted to the Preservation of Documents and other Authentic Information in Relation to the Early Explorations and Settlement and Improvement of the Country around the Head of the Ohio. Edited By Neville B. Craig, Esq. Originally published at Pittsburgh in 1846-7. Published by Robert Clark & Co., Cincinnati, and sold in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

Thirty years ago Mr. Neville B. Craig commenced the publication of a monthly western historical magazine with the title of "The Olden Time." In editing this work, instead of undertaking the task of the historian, by forming, from the documents in his possession, a connected history of the early struggles for the settlement and development of this portion of the West, he wisely preferred to let the actors speak for themselves. The result was an exceedingly valuable collection of rare documents and other materials, preserved in the best form for the use of future historians. The Olden Time was very popular in its day. It was edited with fine discrimination, the mass of information in the hands of Mr. Craig was methodically classified and arranged, and as a story of the earlier years of Pittsburgh and the surrounding community, it possessed a rare interest. Mr. Craig's comments and annotations were written with an easy grace, and were permeated with an evidence of enthusiasm on the subject that gave additional charms to what hardly needed supplementary adornments to the interest of the plain fact. Since the Centennial fever broke out there have been many calls for the work, and this at last induced its republication in its present form. It is in two volumes, on fine paper, with very handsome letterpress, and will please every lover of perfection in book-making. Every library in Pittsburgh should embrace "The Olden Time."

THE HISTORY OF THE ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND; Its Organization, Campaigns, and Battles; written at the request of Major General George H. Thomas, chiefly from his Private Military Journal and Official and other Documents furnished by him. By Thomas B. Van Horne, U. S. A. Illustrated with twenty-two campaign and battle maps. Published by Robert Clarke & Co., Cincinnati, and for sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

The author tells us this history was commenced at the solicitation of Major General Thomas, who placed in his hands his private military journal, together with all his private papers, letters, official documents, &c. The author was a chaplain in the army, and many of the scenes he describes he participated in. The style of the history is plain, but lucid throughout. The author evidently desired to keep to his facts, rather than to indulge in any metricious adornment of imagination. The whole story of the Army of the Cumberland is told in these two volumes, and one feels in reading them the thrill of the campaign, the field and the bivouac again. The value of the work may be judged from the fact, that Major General Thomas before he died, read and approved of several chapters descriptive of engagements in which he commanded. The maps accompanying, enable the reader to follow the army in all its battles and marches. It is a good companion, for Sherman's Memoirs and is invaluable for the student of the war of the rebellion.

ON ALCOHOL. A Course of Six Cantor Lectures Delivered Before the Society of Arts. By Ben. W. Richardson, M. A., M. D. F. R. S. Published by the National Temperance Society, New York. For sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

The author is a scientist and treats his subject from a scientific standpoint. The lectures embrace a historical sketch of alcoholic distillation, and the results of an exhaustive scientific enquiry concerning the nature of alcohol and its effects upon the human body and mind. The revelations made of the fearful effects of alcohol are appalling, but they are all drawn from scientific tests and cannot be gainsayed. The author writes not as a temperance advocate merely, but as a medical man. The lectures are bold, incisive, suggestive, and the volume is exceedingly entertaining as well as instructive.

A FIRST GERMAN COURSE Containing Grammar, Delectus, and Exercise Book with Vocabularies on the plan of Dr. William Smith, Principal Latina.

A FIRST FRENCH READING BOOK, with Gramatical Questions and notes and a Copious Etymological Dictionary.

Both of these little text books come from the house of Harper & Bros. The design is to furnish a text book in each of the languages named for a new beginner by which he may be enabled to obtain a correct knowledge of grammatical forms and to learn their use in the construction of sentences. The student will find them of great value, as they are arranged on a plan different from any other text book in these languages.

DAVAULT'S MILLS; a Novel. By Charles Henry Jones. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York, and for sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co., 101 Wood street.

There is nothing especially noteworthy about this book. It tells the story of the life of a purse proud man, Davault, who lived in state and oppressed his workmen, and at last saw his riches take wings. There is a smattering of love and sentiment here and there for variety sake. The book is on the whole more insipid than anything else.

SAFETY BOOK-KEEPING, being a complete exposition of book-keeper's frauds; how committed, how discovered, how prevented. With other suggestions of value to merchants and book-keepers in the management of accounts. By H. J. Mettenheimer. Published by Robert Clarke & Co., Cincinnati. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldon & Co., 101 Wood street.

This is a valuable little book for business men. It gives many shrewd hints in reference to the overhauling of accounts, and its suggestions with regard to keeping the accounts straight are valuable.

THE 'SQUIRE'S LEGACY. A Novel by Mary Cecil Hay. Published by Harper & Bros., New York.

This volume belongs to Harper's select list. It is a very interesting novel—quiet in tone, with exquisite bits of word painting scattered here and there through a well-sustained plot. It deals with the fortunes of an English 'Squire, knights and nobles and fair ladies, but the story is naturally told.

RULES OF ORDER FOR DELIBERATIVE ASSEMBLIES. By Major Henry M. Roberts. Published by S. C. Griggs & Co., Chicago.

This is a handy pocket manual of rules of order. It is simple, concise, and the rules are founded upon the best parliamentary practice. Everything is classified so that ready reference may be had to any section to settle any question. It is one of the best books of the class we have ever seen.

THE COUNT OF MOVET: or Richelieu and his Rivals. By Alexander Dumas. Published by T. B. Peterson & Bros., Philadelphia.

This is a novel devoted to the portrayal of the intrigues in love and diplomacy which flourished in the Court of Anne of Austria. Those who delight in that style of trash will find this book suited to their tastes.

COMIN' THRO' THE RYE. A Novel. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

A story of English village life, beautiful as the summer haze which hangs over the village, pure in tone, and written in a clear simple style.

THE DISCARDED QUEEN. By G. W. M. Reynolds. Published by T. B. Peterson & Bros., Philadelphia. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co., 101 Wood street.

Reynolds is a dashing writer, full of sensational climaxes. This novel is one of his best, but it belongs to the order of trash

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, for 1875. Volume 16.

Those who have the preceding volumes of this excellent Magazine will desire to keep up the series by adding this number to the list. It is fully equal to any that has preceded it.

The Trouble With the Country.

A young man went home late last Thursday night to his faithful wife on Erie street. He had made the aquaintance of several very friendly persons, and when he entered the room burst into tears simultaneously with his fall over a rocking-chair, and remarked huskily. "Louisha, my dear, Profeshor Shwingih great man; greatest man in country." "O, Montgomery," she said reproachfully, "you have got drunk again. O, whisky, whisky, what crimes are not committed in thy name." "It's lace! it's lace!" replied the indignant husband; "thaz whaz Professer Shwsig said, says the lace hash got more to do wiz misfortunes of people than whisky. Profeshor Shwing's right. Look if Mrs. Belknap hadn't wanted lace she wouldn't have sold post-tradership. Louisher, if you love your husband, shwear off this debasing habit of lace, and you can have all the whisky you want." Then he smiled, frowned, fell over the rocking-chair again, and fell into a sweet sleep. —Chicago Tribune.

A Prize that the English Yachtsmen Covet and Americans Hold.

There is some excitement in the New York Yacht Club over the peremptory challenge just received to sail for the famous Queen's cup. For a quarter of a century it has been held in America as a trophy wrested by the yacht America from a fleet of nearly forty English craft. The challenge comes from Mr. Charles Gifford, Vice-Commodore of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. The yacht he enters is the schooner Countess of Dufferin. She is a new yacht, and all the improvements that nautical science can suggest are to be represented in her. She is 221 tons English, and 233 tons New York Yacht Club measurement. She is 124 feet long over all, 107 feet on deck, 96 feet keel, 24 feet beam, 9 feet 6 inches depth of hold, with 3 feet draft of water forward, and 6 feet 6 inches aft.

THE FLAG OF THE FREE.

The following Centennial song has been composed by Rev. Dr. Wm. Hunter, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate:

Of all the bright ensigns that gleam in the sun,
The hearts of bold freemen throb proudest to one;
When the "Star Spangle Banner" streams out on the air,
Happy multitudes shout, "Never banner so fair,"
For the blood of our martyrs has hallowed it long,
And the deeds of our brave have enshrined it in song.

CHORUS.
Wave, joy of my soul!
Wave, flag of the free!
The eyes of the earth's toilers turn fondly to thee!
Over mountain and plan,
Over river and main,
Float proudly forever the flag of the free!

Our fathers unfurled it, and read in each star
A token of triumph, that nerved them for war;
In the smoke of the battle, in carnage and blood,
Every waft of its stripes was the voice of their God,
Crying, "On to the cannon's mouth! conquer or die!"
But the flag of the free hold aloft in the sky.
Chorus—Wave, joy of my soul! &c.

Great God of our country! this flag of the free
Our sires have bequeathed us—a trust as from thee;
By the mothers who prayed, and the fathers who bled;
By the hopes of the living, the fame of the dead;
By the toils, and tears, and the blood it has cost,
Not a stripe shall be rent, not a star shall be lost.
Chorus—Wave, joy of my soul! &c.

Sunset Cox Outdone.

The setting of the sun last evening presented truly a magnificent sight. The Western sky was o'erspread with waving, billowy clouds, rendered transcendently beautiful by the glow of color from the reflection of the retiring god of day. Here a faint blush of rose tint; there a gorgeous purple; beyond a cloud fringed with a glitter of gold encolor, or enriched with the subdued hue of amber. It was a sight to move the soul of a painter to its innermost depths; and to the poetic mind it brought the thought that even then, far down in the peaceful valley, the reflection of the dying day might be casting a halo of glorious light upon the head of a red-headed girl milking a brindle cow, and that in the vast and varied economy of Nature even a red-headed girl may be of some use —Reese River Reville.

Rothschild's Day's Work.

The Baron is a hard-working man. His wealth imposes a deal of labor upon him. He rises at 7 o'clock in the morning, and goes to his bureau, working there steadily throughout the day, having his midday lunch brought in to him. When in need of exercise, he runs down to Ferrieres for a little shooting. Meanwhile Mme. de Rothschild is making the rounds of her hospitals, carrying relief and comfort to hundreds of those who suffer. These people have enormous fortunes, but they make good use of them, and live really noble lives.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 13, 1876.

Yesterday the business of the banks displayed no new features. The city demand for bank favors was not large, but the tone of the loan market was firm. Country balances remain low. The surplus of loanable funds is sufficient to afford accommodations to all desirable borrowers that apply, but is not so depressing to the rates of interest as it was a month ago. The business of this week is a considerable improvement on that of the week before, and the influence was felt favorably in the loan market. The weather has stimulated the wholesale and retail trade, and increased the counter transactions of the banks. Good negotiable paper is in demand.

The work of Spring in building and other matters seems to have fairly commenced, and the Summer outlook is favorable.

Rates of discount at the banks are 8@10 per cent. The latter rate rules for regular customers, but concessions are made to independent borrowers.

On the street business is quiet. Rates are 9@12 per cent.

The large movement of currency now going on is undoubtedly due in a considerable degree, if not wholly, to the requirements of the interior banks of the Eastern States in connection with their usual April settlements among the farmers and in country towns of the Eastern States. By reference to our files for the corresponding season of 1875 we find that there was a decrease of $21,000,000 of deposits in the New York banks between the 20th of February and 10th of April. At the same time there was a decrease of $6,000,000 in the legal tenders, and a decrease of $16,000,000 of loans. It will appear, therefore, that the movement this spring has not yet been so large as a year ago, and that the contraction of loans is much less in proportion to the decrease of deposits than a year ago.

A dispatch from Washington says that the President has signed the joint resolution making Good Friday a legal holiday. If this is true, it is very important, as notes, acceptances, &c., due on Friday will become due Thursday.

AN ENGLISH EXPERT ON THE SILVER QUESTION.

The London Times of March 24 gives a synopsis of the statement of Sir Hector Hay, an authority in the London bullion market, before the Parliamentary Committee investigating the depreciation of silver: The aggregate annual production of silver had increased from $40,000,000 in 1852 to $80,000,000 in 1875. The United States produced half the silver imported, Mexico and South America together about one-third, and about $10,000,000 a year came from all other countries, including England. The increased production in the United States had not resulted in increased imports into Europe. The sources of information in respect to the United States were the report of the Director of the Mint, the Mining Commissioners, and the Express Company. Up to the end of 1875 about $32,500,000 of silver had been sold by the German Government, most of which had probably gone to India. The $50,000,000 of silver paid by France to the German Government was probably paid in coin, and it had already returned to France in consequence of the demonetization of silver by Germany. That demonetization had been a cause, but very unnecessarily, of the depreciation in the value of silver, inasmuch as the amount demonetized was insufficient to depreciate the value to the extent to which it had fallen. The fear of a large amount of German silver being thrown upon the market was the principal cause of the depreciation. He believed that in a course of a few years silver would recover its value, unless France demonetized her silver. Mr. Pixley, of Pixley & Abell, bullion brokers, thought Sir Hector's estimate below the mark, and that the annual production of silver was about $90,000,000. Recent discoveries of silver in Nevada and elsewhere has not much influenced the market.

NEW YORK, April 12, 1786.

Money loaned at 4@5 and closed at 2½; prime mercantile paper 5@6. The customs receipts were $251,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $21,000. The clearings were $20,000,000. Sterling was dull at 486¾@489¾. Gold opened at 113, and advanced to 113⅜, with final sales at 113¼. The rates for carrying were 1@5 per cent. Loans were also made flat and at 1 per cent. for borrowing. The market was more active during the afternoon, and quite animated at intervals on unfavorable European news. Governments were firmer, in sympathy with gold. Railroad bonds were firm, without important change. State securities were quiet. Stocks opened irregular and in the main weak, with a decline of ⅛@2¼, the latter New York Central. Lake Shore and New York Central were weak, partly on rumors that Commodore Vanderbilt was ill, which rumors were afterward denied. Western Union advanced to 66⅜, and afterwards declined to 66 on rumors that the company was about to reduce the rates. The market was firmer, with a better feeling at the close, and prices recovered ½ to 1¼ per cent. from the lowest point. The greatest improvement was in Hannibal & St. Joe shares. Western Union, Michigan Central, St. Pauls, Northwests and Ohios were all higher, with a more confident feeling prevailing. The transactions aggregated 128 000 shares, of which 14,000 were Pacific Mail, 27,000 Western Union, 6,000 St. Pauls, 8,000 Erie, and 34,000 Lake Shore.

Chicago Flour Market.

Was quiet and with little change in prices. A few buyers wanted to obtain concessions of 10a15c. per brl from Friday's quotations, but were unable to effect it, as the stocks of shipping extras are very light, and others not large enough to induce free selling. The reported sales included 250 brls winters at $7a7,50; 1,162 brls spring extras, partly at $4,50a5,25; and 100 brls rye flour on private terms. Total, 1,512 brls. The market closed quiet at the following range of prices: Choice winter extras, $7,25a7,75; common to good do, $5,75a7,00; shipping extras, $4,25a4,75; good do, $4,75a5,00; choice do, $5a5,25; patents do, $6a9; Minnesota, $5a6,50; spring superfines, $3a3,50; rye flour, $4,20a4,30.

Boston Wool Market.

A late circular says: The market for wool is quite dull, and prices are gradually settling down. Manufacturers have been buying only as wanted, and as there is no prospect of any favorable change, holders are closing up stocks as fast as possible, and further concessions have been made to responsible buyers. The principal transactions of last week were in low-priced California wool and super X and pulled. Fine fleeces have been very little inquired for. There appears to be no end to the troubles of manufacturers. Goods rule low and at very unsatisfactory prices, and the floods the past week will not only stop considerable machinery for some time to come, but must have caused serious losses to many mills.

Chicago Seed Market.

Timothy was quiet and easy. The offerings were small, and old prices were asked, but buyers refused to take hold except at concessions. Prime to choice timothy was scarce and held at $2,30a2,35; the lower grades were quoted at $2a2,20. Hungarian and millet were quiet and unchanged. Clover was in better request, and about 10c ℔ bu. higher owing to light offerings; prime medium was quoted at $9,05a9,10. Flax was quiet at $1,30 for prime. A considerable decrease in the acreage devoted to the culture of flax is looked for this spring, especially in Iowa, where last season's crop was a practical failure, being badly damaged by rains in harvest time.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 12, 1876.

The continued fine weather and greatly improved condition of the roads, has had a perceptible influence upon general business; nearly all our merchants report trade improving, and while it is still behind what it usually is at this season of the year, there is considerable comfort in knowing that it is being conducted on a more healthy and substantial basis. Over-trading, which was so common prior to the panic, has received a quietus, from the effects of which it is hoped it will never recover.

APPLES—Coming in more freely, but prices are still maintained; $4,50a5,50 per bbl for fair to prime; and $6a7 for choice to fancy.

BUTTER—Market continues easy, and prices are weak and drooping; prime to choice rolls, 28a30c; choice dairy, 31a32c. The receipts keep up well, and dealers are all anxious to sell, which indicates that lower prices are expected.

BEANS—There is an increasing demand, but as yet no improvement in prices. Prime navies quoted $1,10a1,15 ℔ bu. in round lots, and $1,20a1,25 in a small way.

CHEESE—The market is firm, but unchanged; prime Ohio Factory, 13½a14c; do New York, 14½a15.

DRIED FRUIT—Demand is better and increasing, but as yet no improvement in prices. Apples quoted at 9a10c for fair to prime; fancy, 10½a11c. Peaches, 11½a12 for prime halves. Blackberries, 12a12½. Pitted Cherries, 25a28c.

EGGS—There is a continued steady demand at 19 cents, with some dealers holding at 20c; it is expected that they will bring the last named figure by the close of the week, unless the receipts increase considerably in the meantime.

FLOUR—There is a fair demand for good flours, but no change in values. Spring wheat flours, $6,25a6,75, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; red winters, $6,50a$7; ambers, $7 a7,50; patent process, $8,50a9,50. Rye Flour, $4,50a5.

GROCERIES—Our latest advices from the seaboard report Coffee as having eased up again, the recent sharp advance having curtailed the demand, and prices are not likely to go any higher for the present. Other staples present no new or important features deserving of special notice.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 12, 1876.

ARRIVALS.

The arrivals in the aggregate for the week ending at noon to-day, as well as those of the preceding week, were as follows:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	398 cars	407 cars
Hogs	110 cars	126 cars
Sheep	84 cars	56 cars
Total	582 cars	589 cars

Briggs, Dock & Drum, Commission Merchants for the sale of live stock, at the East Liberty Stock Yards, report the market as follows:

CATTLE.

The run of through cattle for the week ending at noon to-day was 329 cars and of local 69 cars, against 296 cars of former and 111 cars of the latter during the preceding week, which shows an increase of through consignments and a very decided falling off in local or yard cattle. The effect of this was to curtail business here, as the greater the number of through consignments the fewer are wanted in our market, hence notwithstanding the supply on sale was unusually light, it was in excess of the demand, and prices, instead of improving, have still further declined. The sales were but 802 head, against 1,501 head the preceding week; there were only some two or three Philadelphia and New York buyers on hand and they have bought very sparingly; the number of transient buyers is also small, and but for our local butchers, who bought more than usual this week, there would scarcely have been any business at all. It is true, the cattle trade usually falls off considerably here at this season of the year but there has been less doing recently than ordinarily at this particular time, and it is growing worse and worse.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 1,400 a 1,500 steers	5,60a5,75
Prime 1,200a1,300 steers	5,20a5,40
Fair 1,000a1,100 steers	4,50a5,00
Cows, Bulls and Stags	3,25a4,00

SHEEP.

The run, as will be seen, has been considerably in excess of the preceding week, and with a limited demand, the market has ruled rather slow for all grades, but in particular for good stock, in consequence of unfavorable reports from New York. The inquiry has been chiefly for the medium grades to go to Philadelphia; there was a full supply of common Sheep, and consequently they were hard to sell at a fair price. However, as we close our report, the yards are pretty well cleared, but at a decline in prices of from 12½ to 25cts. per cwt. as compared with last week. There were quite a number of clipped Sheep on the market this week, but with the weather all that could be desired, they met with ready sale at fair prices. If the weather continues warm, clippers will be more sought after than wooled, but if it should turn cold, they would soon drop down below par; in a word, the weather will govern the market for clippers during the next 30 days.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 110a130 lbs	7,25a7,50
Prime 95a100 lbs	6,85a7,00
Good 85a90 lbs	6,50a6,75
Fair 75a80 lbs	6,00a6,25
Common 70a75 lbs	5,00a5,50
Indianas, according to quality	5,00a7,00
Clipped Sheep, 80a100 lbs	5,00a5,75

HOGS.

The receipts continue light, but the market is draggy, and prices as compared with the date of our last report, have declined 20a25cts. per cwt. Shippers are taking hold very sparingly; there was not a single hog bought for Philadelphia to-day, and only some three or four cars since Monday. Philadelphia shippers are getting nearly all their best hogs from Chicago, the reason assigned therefor, being that there are few coming here suitable for that market. The demand on New York account is also light, and as already stated prices are considerably lower as compared with a week ago.

QUOTATIONS.

Common to prime Philadelphia Hogs	8,75a9,20
Common to prime Yorkers	7,90a8,25
Good mixed	8,30a8,40

BRIGGS, DOCK & DRUM.

Cincinnati Horse and Mule Market.

The trade in horses at the Fifth street Horse Market during the past week has been exceedingly active, the total sales footing up 718 head, a larger weekly sale than has occurred for a long time. The demand has been principally for 'streeters,' 5 car loads of which were shipped to Philadelphia, prices paid being from $85 to $120. One carload was shipped to New York of 'drivers,' prices ranging from $110a200. One carload of farm horses to Louisville, Ky., prices from $65a80. One carload do. to Paducah, Ky., at $60a90. Stock is coming in freely, but not up to the demand.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 12, 1875.

Trade continues very quiet, and the market presents but little that is really new. Crude is weak, with but little change in prices as compared with yesterday. United, $1,90; Union, $1,85; outside lines, $1,82½; immediate shipment, $2,12½. The "bears" still appear to be in the ascendancy, and if possible they will force prices down still lower. Refined continues quiet and weak, but unchanged; 11c free on cars here, is about the best figure that can be obtained.

The Barrel market, as noted in our last report, is higher; countries quoted at $1,15; city make, $1,20 bid; $1,25 asked.

JOHN KABERNAGLE,
Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was 7 feet 2 inches, and stationary. Both the Allegheny and Monongahela continue to recede at head waters. Cloudy and oppressively warm. Business was unusually brisk at the landing yesterday.

CAPT. JOHN S. MCMILLAN was in Cincinnati at last accounts.

THE Baltic and Joe Walton departed yesterday with tows of coal.

THE U. P. Schenck was 11 days out from New Orleans to Cincinnati.

THE Laura L. Davis has quit the upper Cumberland trade and goes to St. Louis.

ORE is coming to the pile below St. Louis more lively. This will be good news for towboatmen.

IT was the Alice and not the Charlie Brown that took the longest tow of coal into New Orleans that ever landed there.

WE learn from our Cincinnati changes, that the Fleetwood has beaten the Bostona's fast time from Cincinnati to Huntingdon.

THE Alice Brown arrived at Cincinnati from New Orleans on Monday, with a tow of empty barges. She will turn back from there.

AT the instigation of Norman Laughlin, United Sates Marshal Packard propose to sell the Robert Semple, at New Orleans, on the 18th inst.

THE Ella Hughes, Pine Bluff, Era No. 9, Rosa Miller, beside the occasional boats from New Orleans, are plying the Arkansas above Little Rock.

THE Thompson Dean will ply between Cincinnati and New Orleans for the remainder of the season, but continue to give special attention to Memphis business.

THE Coal City, Coal Valley, and Sam Clark, arrived at Cincinnati on Monday, and the Mary Ann and Coal City left there for Pittsburgh the same day.

THE little propellor, Mike Dougherty, caught fire at the wharf on Tuesday night, but it was discovered and extinguished before much damage was done.

THE Venture took a couple of barges of railroad iron down to Wheeling, on Tuesday, for the Rover: the latter boat will take them on from Wheeling to their destination.

THE Mississippi Valley Transportation Company's steamer Grand Lake, for New Orleans, had over 4,000 tons freight on her barges when she left Cairo, Friday night.

THE Emma Graham arrived about 11 o'clock Tuesday night with an excellent trip, and got out on time, with all the freight she could handle, and quite a number of passengers.

THE Hope, en route to this port, broke her shaft near the "trap" on Monday. She, as well as her tow, was towed up by the Venture, and she will have to remain here until she is provided with a new shaft.

THE Whale departed for St. Louis with three barges containing about 1,400 tons, mostly Pittsburgh manufactures, and about 300 tons engaged at Wheeling and other points below. James and Robert Gordon are her pilots to Cincinnati.

THE Barnard passed Cincinnati on Monday with three barges of shipstuffs, flour and cement, en route for this port. The Coal Hill is coming from St. Louis, with a tow of metal, ore and clay. E. H. Williamson and Thomas Morris are her pilots.

THE St. Louis Globe of Monday says, The Jno. L. Rhoads, from Pittsburgh, Capt. Vandergrift, came in yesterday, with the blue ribbon trip of the season. She had on board 835 tons assorted merchandise, 400 tons for reshipment up the Mississippi, and 65 tons for the Missouri River—and still there is no business on the Ohio River.

REFERRING to the death of John Jackson, the Evansville Journal says he was a brother of Geo. Jackson, of Evansville, who died two years ago, and who had been for many years steward of the Armada, Mayflower and Idlewild. Like his brother George, John Jackson was a pleasant and excellent gentleman, universally esteemed by all who knew him.

THE Arlington received 40,000 feet of lumber at Metropolis. She received 23 bales of sheeting at Evansville for Pittsburgh. While taking lumber at Metropolis, Saturday night, the whole town boarded the boat, and were soon tripping the light fantastic toe, and kept it up until the boat was ready to leave. The officers of the boat were delighted with the acquaintances they made.

THE Mary Boyd, just purchased by the Illinois Packet Company, was built at Cincinnati in 1869, and cost $28,000. She carries 375 tons. Her dimensions are: Length on deck, 147 feet; breadth, 33 feet; depth, 4 feet 10 inches. She has three two-flued boilers; cylinders five feet stroke, 13½ inches diameter; water wheel 18½ feet diameter; buckets 20 feet. She is well built and fastened.

A LATE New Orleans paper says: We have at the lower wharf several tributary packets that have been advertised to leave for several days past, and, owing to the dullness in freight, care not about venturing out until they have received enough to pay expenses. There is but little cotton in the tributaries to come out, and boatmen like to see enough in sight on their up trip to warrant expenses both ways. The above remarks are not very encouraging at this season of the year, but the situation as above depicted is no exaggeration, but plain facts.

HOME NEWS.

Parties who do not receive the GAZETTE by 7 A. M., are requested to notify the office, and the tardiness will be corrected at once.

The probabilities for to-day are falling barometer, southerly winds, clouds and rain, followed by colder, northwest winds.

Gospel Meeting.

There will be a gospel meeting at the Eighth U. P. Church, corner of Locust and Van Braam streets, this evening. Short sermon by Rev. Witherspoon. All are invited.

A Fatal Accident.

Alderman Larkin was deputised to hold an inquest on the body of a German named Bierhardt, who fell down an embankment on to the track of the narrow gauge railroad, near the site of the old Poor House, and was run over by a train. It appears that he was an employe on the road, and was on his way home about nine o'clock night before last. It is supposed that he missed his footing and fell down the embankment, and was so much stunned by the fall that he was rendered insensible. Shortly after a train, or an engine at least, came along and cut both legs off. He was taken to his home near by, where he died soon after.

Police News.

Abbe Flannigan's old ranche, on Penn avenue, which, since her retirement by Judge Kirkpatrick, has had Mag. Peterson for its lessee and manager, was pulled by the police early yesterday morning. The proprietress together with the following parties were arrested: A. J. Suttmeyer, Geo. Crigg, John Hogel, David Jennings, Effie Cunningham, Kate Smith and Mary Reese. Suttmeyer was fined $10 and costs which he paid; Crigg $5, paid. Hogel went up for ten days. Jennings $5, paid. The others were unable to cash up and were each sent up for ten days. The case of the proprietress was held over inasmuch as it is similar to that of Fanny Roberts.

John Oliver and Samuel Simmons were sent to Claremont yesterday morning by Mayor Phillips, the former for ninety and the latter for thirty days, for disorderly conduct on Lacock street.

Alderman Edgar, of Allegheny, has issued a warrant for the arrest of Eliza Roberts for alleged bigamy.

DIAMOND RING THEFT.

A Case of Borrow and No Return.

Annie Campbell, alias Fleming, was committed to jail yesterday by the Mayor for a hearing on a charge of larceny as bailee of a diamond ring valued at $125 from Alfred McCaskey, of Beaver county. The prosecutor spent a night with the prisoner a few weeks ago in a house on Fourth avenue, when she borrowed the ring from him and subsequently pawned it for $40. The accused is from Cookstown, in Fayette county, and is a favorite with the sporting men of that county, particularly Uniontown.

WARD DIVISION.

Recommendation that a New Ward be Erected in Allegheny.

The commission appointed by the court, in compliance with the petition of a number of the residents of the Seventh ward, Allegheny, for the division of that ward, met last evening. Mr. H. M. Dunlap was elected Chairman, and Mr. W. H. Lockart Secretary. After some discussion it was agreed to recommend to the court that what is now known as the third election district of the Seventh ward be cut off and made a ward of itself. This section has a population of about eight hundred or nine hundred persons, and has nearly two hundred voters.

SOUTH SIDE HIGHWAYMEN.

Daring Attempt at Highway Robbery by a Brownsville Puddler.

Just at dusk on Tuesday evening a desperate attempt at highway robbery occurred on Carson, above Thirtieth street, and near McClurg's lane, South Side. George Winterberger was on his way home from his daily toil, and as he passed the mouth of the alley a man sprang upon him, knocked him down, kicked him a couple of times for falling and then dragged him into the alley. After the highwayman had succeeded in getting his victim off the main street he mounted him and demanded his money, at the same time assuring him if it was not at once produced he would make mince meat of his heart. Winterberger hadn't a cent, and after his assailant became fully convinced of this fact he bit him a lick or two for luck and disappeared. Winterberger, covered with dirt, staggered out upon Carson street, and on his way to the police station he met Officer Allen, of the Twenty-first street police, and acquainted him with the particulars of the assault, at the same time saying that the highwayman was John Sauer, a puddler in the Brownsville mills. The officer kept a sharp look out for Sauer during the night, but he did not show himself on the street. Yesterday morning, after being relieved, the officer again went upon watch for Sauer, and his persistence was rewarded by seeing his man on his way to work. As soon as he saw the officer Sauer broke into a run, but after a short race he was captured by the officer and Lieutenant Hamilton, who had joined in the chase, in an outhouse adjoining a tenement, in which he had taken refuge.

Winterberger filed an information before Deputy Mayor Hoerr, charging Sauer with assault and battery and attempt to commit felony, and the Deputy held the prisoner for court.

ANOTHER NATION TRUST SUIT.

An Alleged Error in the Bank Book Not Allowed.

For several days Common Pleas No. 1 has been engaged on the case of John H. Bailey, Receiver of the Nation Trust Company, vs. Samuel McMasters, to recover an alleged over-draft of $353.73. The defense claimed that the bank had credited him with one thousand dollars less, on two occasions, than he had deposited, and offered his pass-book in evidence.

In regard to the first of these two deposits, about which there was a dispute, the plaintiffs put in evidence, first the original stub, which is made out by a depositor in making a deposit. It showed that on October 10, 1872, McMasters had deposited $225.87. From this the amount was carried to the scratcher and thence on to the ledger, the date and the amount corresponding in these three places. McMaster's account was balanced May 17, 1873, and in order to make it balance this amount must be $225.87. On McMaster's pass-book this deposit, made October 10, 1872, stood $1,225.87, instead of $225.87.

When the affairs of the bank were turned over to Mr. Bailey, as reciver, he supposed that McMaster's pass book was correct, and rightly showed the account between himself and the bank. It was some time after that that the difference of $2,000 between McMaster's accounts and those of the bank was discovered. The other disputed amount was a deposit of $150, which appears on the pass book as $1,150.

The plaintiff claimed that the extra "ones" on the pass book were placed there by some person not connected with the bank. It was alleged that these figures were very different from the others, and it seemed that the jury took this view of the case, a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff for the whole amount asked.

FINED $150 EACH.

The Exhibitors of "Classic Tableaux" Before the Mayor—The Maximum Penalty of the Law Imposed for Performing Without a License.

The hearing in the three suits against E. Kernan, E. Clotworthy and B. S. Hodges, for being concerned in public exhibitions given at the Fifth Avenue Theater without license, took place yesterday evening before Mayor McCarthy. J. Sousa was also included in the information, but he was not on hand. Among the spectators were a large number of theatrical gentlemen. Chief of Police Hartzell, the first witness sworn, testified that he attended the Theater on Monday and Tuesday evenings and paid for admittance in both instances; also that the place has no license for the present month. Lieutenant Tyre testified that he was there yesterday afternoon and paid to get in. Mr. J. N. Gotthold, one of the lessees of the Fifth Avenue Theater, identified two of the three defendants as connected with the present performance. As regards the license he said that it had been the custom at the Mayor's office to send a detective to the Opera House toward the middle or close of every month with a notication that the money was due for the license, which demand was promptly met with the necessary amount of cash. He also stated that he had known application to be made for license money before it was due. This statement Chief Hartzell denied. Mr. Gotthold further said that he had personal knowledge of performances having been given at other theatres in this city under the system of sub-letting, which the authorities passed over without action, yet took cognizance of the similar instance under present consideration. The witness yesterday morning offered the Mayor the amount of money necessary to pay for licenses for both the Pittsburgh Opera House and the Fifth Avenue Theater. The Mayor accepted for the former, but refused for the latter. Mr. Swartzwelder, attorney for the defense, submitted two receipts, attached together, one showing that the license for the Opera House expired on the 13th of April, to-day, and that the license of the Fifth Avenue Theater expires on the 1st of April. The gentleman then made what seemed to be an effort to prove that, inasmuch as the Opera House and its next door neighbor are under one roof, the license of the former should be sufficient for both. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Mayor fined the defendants $150 each, being $50, the maximum penalty, on each information. Mr. Swartzwelder at once took an appeal, and Mr. Gotthold gave $900 bond to secure the amount of the penalties.

The hearing on the charges for running an obscene exhibition takes place at nine o'clock this morning. Quite a number of the reporters on the morning papers have been subpœned. Nine o'clock is about three hours ahead of their time for getting up, as they labor nearly all night, and it is doubtful whether they will all be present.

Housekeepers would find their Biscuit, Cakes, &c., much improved by using Marvin's Self-Raising flour, in place of ordinary flour, mixed with expensive baking powders or cream of tartar and soda.

CONTRADICTING GRIER.

Hon. Henry M. Long Explains His Relations with the Absent Cashier.

The Testimony of Mr. James Grier Denounced as False—Mr. Wm. Friday Denies that he Ever Sought to Overdraw His Account — Engineer Lowry Directs a Shaft at Senator Wood.

The Legislative Committee met yesterday morning promptly at ten o'clock. There were present Messrs. Miner, Richardson, Shidle, Swan, and Chairman Carson. The first witness sworn was Mr. Thomas MacConnell, business manager of the Evening Telegraph.

WHAT HE KNEW ABOUT BONDS.

Thomas MacConnell, Jr., sworn—Am manager of the Evening Telegraph; do not know of any misappropriation of water bonds, nor of their being put into any private business enterprise; during Mr. Swoope's life some business transactions took place between him and Mr. Ross; know nothing about money from water bonds being used in the Telegraph.

Mr. Carson—Mr. MacConnell, specific charges have been made that $12,000 of water bonds were used in the Telegraph office, can you tell us anything about it.

Mr. MacConnell—Never knew anything about the matter until after the death of Mr. Swoope; I then learned that Mr. Ross had a claim of $10,000 or $12,000 against Mr. Swoope; prior to the death of Mr. Ross I assumed the debt of $12,000 and gave my personal notes for the amount; the stock which I obtained for the money I afterwards sold; I bought the stock because I thought it was a speculation; I know nothing of where the money came from; know that Mr. Ross and Mr. Swoope had some dealings, but I knew nothing of where John Ross gotth money used in the Telegraph.

No further questions being asked, Mr. MacConnell was allowed to retire.

HON. H. M. LONG ON THE STAND.

Hon. Henry M. Long was next sworn, and testified as follows: Never had any personal connection with the Nation Trust Company; saw Mr. Grier's testimony yesterday; it was published in the GAZETTE two years ago; I was financial agent of Wm. Smith & Sons, at the time, handling nearly $2,000,000, the bulk of our transactions were in the Nation Trust Company; Grier frequently complained of being hard up; he gave me his checks; sometimes they were deposited to my account; they were always, however, to Mr. Smith's credit in the bank; I never kept an individual account with the cashier or with the bank, and never got a dollar from the bank or from Grier; never received a statement orally or written from Grier since his departure; I would just state here that I will give $100 to get Grier Back; never saw a completed water bond in my life; never handled one in any way, neither openly, done up in a package or any way; never knew of water bonds being loaned or used as collateral, or carried, or in any other way, in connection with the Nation Trust Company; know of no person charging such a thing of his own knowledge; I testified two years ago, that on different occasions Ross had asked me as a personal accommodation to him—being troubled with fistula—to carry papers and deposit books to the bank; my business carried me past the bank, and I complied with his request without any more knowledge than a child would have of the transactions; it was just such an act that any one would have done for a friend; this testimony was for the purpose of corroborating John Ross' statement that he had deposited money with the Nation Bank; out of this possibly had grown the scandal about the knowledge of water bonds.

GRIER'S STATEMENT DENOUNCED.

Grier states that he once lent me a large amount of notes, among which was a note for $10,000; I simply state that the allegation is devoid of truth and made through a mistake; when he was short of cash he frequently gave us notes; the batch of notes he speaks of was probably those given to R. H. Smith; there is no secret about this matter; Mr. R. H. Smith has twice testified in regard to the matter; we had deposited $50,000 in cash in the bank, and instead of giving us the cash back he gave Mr. Smith the notes to have discounted; the transaction was all right and proper; the bank was short at the time, like all the other banks; Grier says he frequently exchanged checks with me; he evidently means Smith & Sons; Bob was always hard up; he frequently got checks from us to tide over for a few days; these were deposited in the bank through which Grier cleared; we never got a check for our own benefit; we were always being importuned for money; we thought the bank safe and had no hesitation in giving our check; Mr. James Grier testifies that his brother wrote that if Henry M. Long and William Smith denied the statement published they would swear to what they know to be untrue; I have already shown that he was mistaken in two instances; one in regard to the batch of notes which he gave to Mr. Roly Smith, and the other in regard to the statement that Messrs. Smith & Son's account had been overdrawn to the amount of $120,000, Grier having told me just the time the bank closed that the Smith account was square at last.

THE ANIMUS OF JAMES GRIER.

As to the animus of James Grier I would state that he has frequently made threats during the past two years that he would get even with me for contradicting or going back on Bob Grier; I wish to reiterate, in language as strong as I can command, that I have no knowledge where one single dollar of the National Trust Company went except such as went legitimately to Wm. H. Smith and Sons; never had a personal transaction to the amount of one dollar with the bank; don't believe Grier got any of the money squandered; I was at this time financial agent of Wm Smith, contractor for the new water works' pipe; had a salary of $5,000 per year; my business required me to be in the office of Mr. Kennedy, civil engineer, and of Mr. Ross, Secretary of the Water Commission; my last duty each day was to call at Mr. Kennedy's office to receive orders from him in regard to the work for the next day, where pipes were to be delivered; these visits probably induced Mr. Ross to ask me to carry his bank book to the Nation bank; don't think I did anything more than one friend would do for another; I never knew anything about the water bonds; did hear at one time that the Nation Bank was one of the institutions authorized to negotiate the sale of $100,000 of water bonds; I have reason to think that my connection with the Nation Trust Bank was pretty thoroughly investigated by Mr. McKelvy and Mr. Pitcairn; they have never called upon me for an explanation; they know I am responsible, and if they were satisfied that I was indebted to the bank they would have instituted proceedings.

To. Mr. Robb—Was executor of the late John Ross; it came to my knowledge that Ross had furnished Mr. Swoope with money from time to time that was put in the Telegraph; can't say whether the money was from the sale of water bonds or not; the fact of the money going to the Telegraph came to me as executor by finding papers among those belonging to Mr. Ross; the amount was between ten and twelve thousand dollars; I have filed my final account of the estate.

In conclusion, Mr. Long said he hoped that if any citizen present had any question to ask, that it would be asked. He did not wish it to be said after he left the stand that this or that question was suppressed. He had nothing to conceal, and had been anxious to appear before the committee for the past two weeks.

BEDFORD AVENUE IMPROVEMENTS.

Sigismund Low, Esq., was called to the stand, and testified that he was the engineer for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad; he had done some work on Bedford avenue, while Mr. Lawrence, the engineer, was sick; some of the cuts were fully thirty feet; think some of the property is utterly ruined; the street is about a mile in length; the improvement will cost thirty-two dollars per lineal foot; the great trouble is that the contractors have too much to do with the selection of engineers; that is why all the streets of the city cost so much money; Col. Lehman was the original engineer; don't know why he was discharged; probably he was too honest; don't know of anything wrong on the street; know the whole measurement was correct; do not know anything about the classification of materials; think the city will be the loser by the improvement; some of the property will be practically worthless; no sensible man would pay the assessment for part of the property.

STREET BONDS IN THE TRUST CO.

Civil Engineer Kennedy was recalled and testified: In regard to the $50,000 of street bonds referred to in the testimony yesterday, Ross told me one day that the directors had denied having any knowledge of receiving bonds from him; he said he had no way of proving it, as the books did not show any records and they denied his accounts; after some conversation with him I went to my desk; after thinking for some time it occurred to me that I had taken a package to Mr. Friday for Mr. Ross; I told Ross I could prove that, as I had taken $50,000 of bonds for him to Mr. Friday, one of the Directors of the bank; Mr. Ross then remembered the transaction, but told me it might get me into trouble to mention it; told him I had no objection to make the statement before Mr. Swoope or the Finance Committee, as I afterwards did; the transaction in regard to taking the bonds to Mr. Friday was about as follows; I was in my office about noon—the date I have forgotten, and had put on my hat to go out; Mr. Ross asked me which way I was going; told him to the Union Depot; he said "Stop a minute, and take this package to Billy Friday for me;" he was then tying or sealing a package in yellow paper, eighteen inches long and four inches in thickness; as I took it he told me it was valuable, as it was Thirty-third street bonds; as near as I can recollect he simply told me to give it to Mr. Friday; not to give it to Friday or Grier; it would not have been out of my way a particle more to have given it to Grier if he had so desired; that is the only package of bonds I ever handled for a third party; have seen them in the office; never know of the Nation Trust Company having water bonds except the $100,000 authorized by the Water Commission.

CROSS-EXAMINATION OF MR. LONG.

At this point Mr. Long was recalled. Mr. James Grier, accompanied by John Barton, Esq., as his attorney, having come in in the meantime, and requested permission to cross-examine the gentleman.

Mr. Barton—In the summer of 1873 did you not receive from R. J. Grier the sum of $6,000 to pay or apply to an account for the use of Smith, or Smith & Son, on a water bond transaction?

Mr. Long—No, sir; as I stated, Mr. Grier frequently gave me his check as cashier instead of cash.

Mr. Barton—Did you, at any time pay to John Ross $6,000 which you obtained from Grier?

Mr. Long—No, sir.

Mr. Barton—Do you know of Smith, or Smith & Son, giving certain promissory notes to the amount $5,000 to make up $11,000 to pay John Ross or any other person for the use or account of the Nation Trust Company.

Mr. Long—I have no such knowledge; I stated all I knew during my examination in chief.

Mr. Barton—Did you, at any time, give a check for $5,000 to lift notes referred to when they fell out?

Mr. Long—I have no knowledge of any such transaction; the $6,000 alleged to have been paid to me by Grier was not the proceeds of water bond transaction between Smith and Grier.

JAMES GRIER CROSS-EXAMINED.

Mr. Long—Mr. Chairman, I have a few questions to ask Mr. Grier, if you will give me permission.

Chairman—Mr. Grier, please take the stand.

Mr. Grier—All right, I am prepared to answer any question.

Mr. Long—Mr. Grier, you testified that I carried bonds to the Nation Trust Company; where did you get this information?

Mr. Grier—I got it from Mr. Bob Grier and your testimony.

Mr. Long—Didn't you tell Nelson P. Reed, of the GAZETTE, that you'd get even with your man, Long.

Mr. Grier—No, sir; I did not. I said I wanted justice and would have it. I meant that I intended to get even with those who had lied on my brother.

Mr. Long—Was I one of those parties?

Mr. Grier—Yes, sir; you are, so far as my present knowledge goes.

Mr. Long—Where did you get your knowledge?

Mr. Grier—I decline to answer that question.

Mr. Long—Probably you have a bird flying.

Mr. Grier—Well, the information comes.

GRIER'S BUNDLE OF NOTES.

John H. Bailey, Esq., Receiver of the Nation Trust Company, was sworn and testified that the statement of Bob Grier as published shortly after he had received it and republished in the GAZETTE Wednesday morning, gave all the essential parts of the statement; the parts omitted were merely expletives and expressions.

Mr. R. H. Smith was recalled and testified that the batch of notes which Cashier Grier had stated had been handed to Mr. Long was given to him, and all the notes negotiated were for the benefit of the bank, not for myself or for our firm. The iron paper referred to was returned to the bank after I had attempted to negotiate the paper.

WHY GRIER WAS CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

W. J. Friday again took the stand for the purpose of explaining why he had made the information for forgery against Grier; while examining the affairs of the bank after the suspension upwards of $200,000 of the paper had disappeared, and we published an advertisement warning the public against purchasing the paper, and parties named in the advertisement declared, in published cards, that the papers were forgeries; the board then passed a resolution instructing me to make an information for forgery against Grier. Some days delay ensued before a true bill was found by the Grand Jury; I wish to say that I employed ex-Chief of Police Hague, at my own expense, to go to Canada and search for Grier, and offered a reward of $5,000 for his capture; I would pay that amount now if he could be brought back; I would like to have Mr. Hague called, to corroborate this statement; I state under oath that there is no truth in the allegation that I wrote a letter to Grier asking permission to over-draw my account for $20,000; I wish to state further that our firm is not indebted to the bank a single dollar; I make this statement to let the public know how anxious I am for the return of Grier.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS AGAIN.

After Mr. Friday had left the stand Messrs. Baum and McKinley, Commissioners on Liberty avenue, appeared and testified that the improvement would result in the virtual confiscation of some of the property.

Mr. David Kirk, sworn—Had nothing to do with the Butler street Commission; was a member of Select Council; inaugurated an investigation into the alleged bribery on Butler street. The witness was examined at length in regard to the investigation. It was dismissed as a joke. He was also examined in regard to the investigation of City Engineer Dempster. He said he thought he had established that the City Engineer, Dempster, had been receiving money as engineer of street improvements and also as the City Engineer. The committee overruled his evidence, and presented a report smoothing the matter over.

The committee went into recess until 2 o'clock.

PUMPING AN EDITOR.

The committee organized soon after two o'clock, and Mr. J. Vannote, editor of the GAZETTE, was the first witness sworn. He testified: Have no personal knowledge of any disposition made of the water bonds; have nothing in my possession that could be called evidence in that matter; have no direct knowledge as to water bonds, regarding their negotiation; have had statements made to me on that subject, and I have given the names to your chairman; think it undesirable to mention the names here.

Chairman Carson—I substantiate what Mr. Vannote says in regard to the names. The committee has derived all the advantages from the information that could be attained by making the names public. They will be given to the committee this afternoon, and the persons named can be supœnaed, if desired.

Mr. Robb—Do you know of any member of this committee having been bribed?

Mr. Vannote—Oh, not at all.

Mr. Carson—The reason Mr. Robb asked the question was that it had been intimated in the GAZETTE that the committee had been "seen," and in Legislative parlance that is understood to mean that they had been bribed.

Mr. Vannote—There was a current rumor, in relation to the matter, to the effect that some of the parties interested in the investigation had been seen at supper at the Chairman's house, and the assumption was thereupon made that efforts to "see" the committee were being made.

Chairman Carson—There was no foundation for the rumor. No person ever examined before this committee, or in any way interested in the investigation was ever at my house.

Mr. Robb—You have no personal knowledge of water bonds appropriation, John Ross, or the Water Commission.

Mr. Vannote—In the sense that I was present, and saw and knew of the things asked after, I have no personal knowledge of any of these things. Testimony was given this morning that was more directly to the point in these matters than I could testify, and the persons whose names were furnished to the Chairman by me will, if called upon, furnish more direct information, in addition, than I could impart from my personal knowledge.

Ex-Chief of Police Hague swore that Mr. Friday employed him to pursue Grier to Canada. The money for expenses were furnished by Mr. Friday, and after hunting through Canada, except Coburg, and the northern part of New York, the witness had found no trace of Grier.

ENGINEER LOWRY OFF HIS CENTRE.

Joseph L. Lowry being sworn the Chairman said that Captain Aull when upon the stand had said that $50,000 had been used in procuring the contract for the engines.

Mr. Lowry—About the truth of the charge I will not answer. In reference to the $50,000 gotten by Hartupee I will say that he had no right to draw the money at that time, and by doing so he got me into trouble. This was an advance made on his contract. Is that what is referred to?

Chairman Carson—No. The $50,000 I referred to was said to have been corruptly used.

Mr. Lowry—I heard Mr. Hartupee got $50,000 before he was entitled to it.

To Mr. Swan—Kennedy and Ross told Thomas N. Miller that to secure the contract I would have to be paid fifteen per cent. This was for the purpose of frightening him off, so that Hartupee could get the contract. This was done without my knowledge, and subsequently Miller taxed me with the attempted blackmail, and he was forced to retract the statement, and acknowledge that I knew nothing of the arrangement between Ross and Kennedy, and the others. On the second contract Mr. Ross asked me to sign a contract giving Mr. Hemphill the exclusive right to build the engines, in consideration of which I was to receive $50,000. This I refused to do.

Mr. Carson—Do you know of any irregularities at all?

Mr. Lowry—It is of no use to raise the bones of dead men, because it would do no good.

Mr. Carson—If you know of any irregularities you should tell them.

Mr. Lowry—The irregularities have long since ceased, but Johnny Ross was guilty of a great many irregularities.

Here the witness recurred to the testimony pertaining to the erection of a foundation for his engines, and he distinctly contradicted the testimony of Contractor Howard that the foundations were set out into the river. The foundations were not set out into the river one inch. Howard is a partner of Douglas, he said, and at present he has a suit against the city for damages arising out of the extension of the foundations into the river. The minutes of the Water Commission have been made to show that the work was ordered, but in reality the foundations do not extend an inch beyond the lines of the original plan.

RISE UP! SENATOR WOOD.

Senator Wood, said the witness, has seen fit to attack the committee, and I propose to defend myself and them. The Senator talked in the Senate of the extravagance of the Water Committee; Mr. Wood when on the Water Committee consulted me; I was opposed to the extension of the Smith Pipe contract and I advised Mr. Wood against it; I said there was money enough with economy, to carry the work through, providing the pipe contract was not extended; Mr. Wood said the committee could get enough money and went down and voted for the extension of the contract; It is not necessary now to give my reasons for opposing the extension of the pipe contract, but at the time that I was talking with Mr. Wood they were considered sufficient to convince him that it should not be extended.

Mr. Edward Gregg, a hardware merchant, was produced to prove that several years ago no hardware house, save that of P. H. Laufman & Co., could get a chance to supply the city with hardware, but the witness swore that it was his opinion that he could have had the same facilities for furnishing the city, as Laufman & Co. had.

The committee adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

TO THE RESCUE.

Pittsburgh and Allegheny Home for the Friendless.

An assessment of over thirteen hundred dollars has been made by the city against the Home for the Friendless for the paving of the street in front of their property. The donation kindly made us by the Troubadours enabled us to pay more than one-half of the debt. The Managers of the Home now make an appeal to the benevolence of the public for means to liquidate the balance.

We have a family of over eighty to provide food and clothing for, and now in addition to that, this debt comes very hard upon us. The past year has been a very trying one. Many of those who aided us most generously in the support of the "Home" since it was first established, this year have been under the necessity of withdrawing their subscriptions entirely, or reducing it one half, saying to us, "We have the heart to give, but not the purse."

When returning to our homes weary and disappointed after a day of unsuccessful effort to collect, we have sometimes felt disheartened, but we look back over the way the Lord hath led us, and we take courage, feeling assured that He who fed five thousand with a few loaves will not desert us. "The silver and the gold is the Lords. He has placed it in the hands of many stewards of whom He will require an account of their stewardship." His command to such is that they do good. That they be rich in good works, ready to distribute. How many of you, my readers, who, if you have not been able to make as many thousands this year as you have in years gone by, yet you have added to your possessions; your loved ones have been denied no indulgence that money could procure. To whom are you indebted for this? Thou shalt remember the Lord thy God, for it is He that giveth the power to get wealth. Have you no thank offering to give? He says "Freely ye have received, freely give." "If thou hast much give plenteously, and for this thing the Lord thy God shall bless thee, in all thou puttest thy hand unto." What better security can you ask? What investment so safe?

We cannot doubt that this our appeal will be answered, and that we shall be enabled not only to pay this debt, but our ability continued, to provide for the many little ones who would otherwise be friendless and homeless.

IN MEMORIAM.

Action of the Bar on the Death of Hon. Wm. G. Hawkins.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the bar met to take action upon the death of Hon. William G. Hawkins, which was announced the day previous. The meeting was called to order by Major A. M. Brown, upon whose motion Judge Sterrett was called to preside. The other Judges of the several courts were chosen Vice Presidents, and John G. McConnell and Josiah Cohen elected Secretaries. A committee consisting of T. M. Marshall, R. B. Carnahan, Stephen Geyer, W. D. Moore and Mr. Purviance was appointed to draw up suitable resolutions.

The resolutions adopted set forth his career at considerable length, closing with the following high tribute:

He never changed with, or followed the variations and giddiness of popular clamor.

His life was a thoughtful, earnest and persistent assertion of his own highest judgment of the true purpose of life.

He was a man who had no false pretenses of character, and who had no excuse or toleration for shams or pretensions.

His life was self-poised—consistent and well balanced. He has lived to witness on earth the fruits of a well spent and honorable career, to witness the public and generous appreciation of the culture and direction which has given to the community trained members of society worthy of the example and teachings of their ancestry.

We, his brethren, whilst mourning our loss in his departure to the purer and better land, desire to bear testimony to his high integrity, his great worth and unchallenged honor as a source for example and honorable emulation to the profession and the world.

The report was adopted, after which Messrs. Marshall, Moore, Brown and Carnahan addressed the meeting, each speaker paying an eloquent and fitting tribute to memory of the deceased.

The proceedings were ordered to be entered at large upon the minutes of the several courts of this county, and a copy signed by the officers of the meeting sent to the family of deceased.

Marvin & Co.'s Biscuits and Crackers has long been a desiratum, which, we are happy to say, is now supplied in the opening of their retail house, at No. 18 Fifth avenue. Marvin & Co. are not men who do things by halves, as their extensive Bakery and wholesale department, at Nos. 91 and 93 Liberty street, fully attests, and therefore no guarantee is needed to be given either as to the variety or excellence of goods to be kept at No. 18 Fifth avenue. Let those whose mouth has never watered at sight of good things take a peep at the many and different kinds of savory and toothsome Cake and Biscuit offered here, and our word for it, they must become constant patrons of Marvins' peculiarities and specialties in bankery. "Variety is the spice of life," and Marvin & Co. seem to be fully impressed with this principle, as their Cake and Biscuit in varieties of flavors are numberless. Another principle to which they adhere strictly is that "honesty is the best policy," the practice of which at their establishment insures the eater that every minutiæ in the form of material is of perfect excellence and purety, and without an iota of adulteration. Purely healthful and delicately delicious are all the manufactures of S. S. Marvin & Co.

Something Worth Seeing.

Passing along Liberty street, our attention was attracted by the fine display made by Messrs. J. P. Smith, Son & Co., No. 189 Liberty street. On entering, we found these enterprising gentlemen have been making such improvements that they now have one of the very finest salesrooms in the city. The most prominent object on the ground floor, is a large glass case which is filled with the choicest selection of Silverware, including Tea Sets, Coffee Urns, Ice Pitchers, and a full assortment of articles suitable for table and toilet uses. Their stock of Knives, Forks and Spoons is very large and the prices are extremely low. The cases on either side are lined with a superb show of rich Bronze Ornaments, Decorated Vases, Parian Statuary and Cut Glassware. This firm also do a very extensive business in Lamps and Chandeliers, and we were shown some very convenient appliances for attaching to gas fixtures to burn carbon oil, and thus avoid the excessive charges for gas of which so many complain. The use of oil in place of gas is daily becoming more general and no one can better meet such demands than Messrs. J. P. Smith, Son & Co.

On the second floor a very large assortment of French Glass Shades for Wax Work, Ornaments, &c., is to be seen. We would cordially recommend this firm to our readers as in every way worthy of their patronage.

A Toast.

Two Important Discoveries! The discovery of America by Columbus, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; the one opening up to mankind a new continent, the other a fountain of health, which is indispensable to the full enjoyment of life and its blessings. In response to the above sentiment come the unsolicited attestations of tens of thousands of grateful patients, who have been relieved of chronic ailments through its instrumentality. Those voices are limited to no one locality, but from every city, village, and hamlet, in our broad domain, as well as from other climes, and in the strange utterances of foreign tongues, like the confused murmur of many waters, come unfeigned and hearty commendations. It is, in combination with the Pleasant Purgative Pellets, the great depurator of the age. Under its benign action eruptions disappear, excessive waste is checked, the nerves are strengthened, and health, long banished from the system, resumes her reign and re-establishes her roseate throne upon the cheek. All who have thoroughly tested its virtues in the diseases for which it is recommended unite in pronouncing it the great Medical Discovery of the age.

The Domestic Portable Range manufactured by JOHN B. HERRON & CO., 291 Liberty street, is the most satisfactory cooking apparatus in the market.

A Few Bargains Still Left.

A very fine Steinway, just as good as new, used eighteen months; price $925, at $350. An almost new Cramer & Co.'s at $250. Bradford & Co., used about one year, full agraffe, price $600, at $280. Fine double round Guild, Church & Co.'s; price $575, at $200. Also, a few more nearly as good, but at much less prices. Terms to suit purchasers. Organs at $25 to $100.

Don't fail to call at once, as this week will certainly close out the entire stock, and we will get into our new store by Monday or Tuesday. So call at once at S. Hamilton's old stand, 77 Fifth avenue.
